Dodd Bars Hasty Rescue By Force

Captive Asks Study Of Full Red Demands

Seoul, Saturday (AP) — An American general held captive for three days by tough North Korean prisoners of war on Koje Island has asked the Eighth Army not to attempt his rescue by force until full Communist demands are made known.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet disclosed today that the Allied command already had granted the hot-head Communist prisoners some minor demands in an effort to obtain the release of Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd. But the Eighth Army commander made clear he never would yield to "unreasonable" demands from the Reds. He insisted that the 52-year-old general be released unharmed.

Dodd commanded the sprawling prisoner of war camp on Koje Island off Southeast Korea when he was seized Wednesday by North Korean prisoners. He has since been replaced.

"We have granted minor requests of the Communists and have asked them for a statement of their demands—telephones, writing paper, admittance of representatives to other compounds," Van Fleet said in a statement.

"Several requests from Gen. Dodd not to use force until Communist views are determined have been granted," the Eighth Army commander added.

Van Fleet earlier had warned the Communist prisoners he would use force if necessary "at an early date" to free Dodd.

Battle-tested Eighth Army veterans were standing by on Koje ready to go into action if the signal is given.

"Additional security measures at Koje have been taken," Van Fleet said. "The Communists have been told they must hand over Gen. Dodd unharmed."

The last word out from behind the barbed wire of the grim compound was that Dodd was being well treated. He said so himself. By telephone he said he apparently was in little danger.

Dodd, however, was shorn of his command of the rocky island prison off the southest tip of Korea. Van Fleet made this announcement, but did not make clear whether Dodd would be restored to command later.

Van Fleet placed Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson in command of the prison housing 80,000 prisoners and gave him "full authority and command to handle the situation."

Van Fleet also ordered an Army investigation of the incident. For one thing he said he wanted to find out "why the guards didn't rush in for a rescue attempt" when Dodd was seized at the compound gate.

Van Fleet made a flying visit yesterday to the troubled island, scene of two previous prison riots. He would not permit correspondents to go to Koje, saying the situation still was "too delicate."

From Van Fleet's statement, and from an Army news conference that lasted until eary today, correspondents gained a clearer picture of the incredible plight of Dodd.

Dodd was captured by the prisoners of Compound 76 at 3:15 p.m., Wednesday as he stood talking at the gate with their leaders. Lt. Col. Wilbur R. Raven also was seized, but grabbed a gate post and pulled free.

Dodd could be in a permanent building, a tent, or a hut. He has a telephone and is allowed to use it at will. But the line can't be traced to any particular building. The Reds helped install the telephone.

Eleventh Month Of Truce Talks Open With Another Brief, Uneventful Session

Munsan, Korea (AP) — The eleventh month of Korean armistice talks began today with no settlement in sight barring a switch in Red strategy on orders of some far-off Communist capital.

The full armistice delegations met for only 12 minutes today. They agreed to convene again tomorrow.

The Allied negotiators have nothing to say to their Communist opposite numbers except "take it or leave it." The "it" is the final Allied proposal of April 28. So far the Reds have left it.

Yesterday's 10-minute session produced nothing but the usual Communist harangue accusing the Allies of refusing to negotiate and preventing agreement on a truce.

This prompted Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, U. N. Command spokesman, to observe that the Communists appeared to be awaiting instructions. This probably would mean instructions from Peiping, the Chinese Communist capital, or even Moscow.

Seoul (AP) — Allied fighter-bombers yesterday carried their relentless rail busting offensive almost to the Manchurian border, shrugging off a feeble Red jet attempt to interfere.

Twelve swift MIG-15s pounced on eight slower Shooting Star jets and were sent winging back to their Manchurian hideouts with one of them crippled, the Fifth Air Force said. If there were any Allied losses they will be announced in a weekly summary.

The battle was fought near Kusong, only 30 miles south of the Yula River which separates Korea and Manchuria.

Six Nations Sign Draft Of West European Army-Pact

Paris (AP) — Six West European nations last night initialed the draft of a treaty aimed at pooling their military resources in a unified army more than a million strong.

This army, intended to include 400,000 West German troops, is to be placed at the disposal of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) in the Western front against aggression.

It will come under the command of Marshal Alphonse Juin, 62-year-old French military hero, in his capacity as chief of NATO's central sector.

Gen. Eisenhower hailed the initialing of the draft as "a real milestone in the development of Europe's defenses."

In Oslo on a farewell visit as the alliance's supreme commander, he told newsmen the army plan would bring German strength into the European defense system on a basis of self-respect.

But how soon West Germany will be able to start putting soldiers in uniform remains one of the big imponderables of the unification plan.

The Parliaments of the six member nations-France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—must act on ratification of the treaty after their foreign ministers sign it, probably before th end of this month.

East Germany May Recruit 350,000 Men

Berlin (AP)—A Red Wehrmacht which East German government circles said may number 350,000 troops by Autumn was in the making last night.

The Soviet zone's Communist bosses polished up a broad defense bill legalizing this rearmament—ostensibly to counter plans of West Germany to line up defensively with the West.

Usually reliable sources in both East and West Berlin said the bill includes a draft clause which would permit the Communist government to make army service compulsory.

The East zone has already launched a recruiting campaign among its Communist Free Youth and is making ready to tap East Germans reluctant to rush to the colors.

Bill Sent To White House

Washington (AP)— Two bills raising benefit payments to veterans by about 202 million dollars a year were passed by the Senate yesterday. The measures now go to the White House.

The increases are designed to meet cost-of-living boosts since the benefit rates were last fixed.

Controls Hit By Business Advisory Unit

Hot Springs, Va. (AP)—The Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council yesterday gave Secretary Sawyer its advice on price and wage controls: Get rid of them.

A majority of the council's 100-odd members, including some of the biggest names in industry, reported that business is moving into a "buyers' market" in which ceilings are not needed.

Outside the closed session with Sawyer, several business leaders—including former Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson declared that effective wage control already is lost as a result of the handling of the wage dispute.

Wilson told a reporter business men generally believe "the controls program is a dead duck."

Wage control, he added, "is gone and everybody knows it."

The advisory council called emphatically for greater economy in government, Sawyer told newsmen after the meeting.

"They urged very strongly that it be applied to all government activities, including defense and foreign aid," he said.

Girl Stabbed To Death Before Horrified Crowd

New York (AP) — A 30-year-old man, apparently thwarted in his love for a 15-year-old high school girl, stabbed her to death yesterday before the eyes of horrified passersby on a Manhattan street corner near Pennsylvania Station.

He then ran a few steps and stabbed himself with the weapon, a hunting knife with a 6-inch blade, moaning as police reached him:

"I want to kill myself. I want to die."

Police identified him as Eduardo Charriez, a Brooklyn Postoffice clerk who had first met the girl, Olga Salart, when both previously lived in Puerto Rico. He was not hurt seriously.

Det. James Buckley quoted him as saying he and the girl loved one another and that she had told him earlier yesterday that "if my mother tries to separate us, kill me and then kill yourself."

Low Bidders Announced By Bridge Agency

Low bids totaling approximately $875,000 were received yesterday by the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission at their Trenton, N.J. office for construction of Pennsylvania approaches to three new Delaware River Bridges.

The Associated Press said a spokesman for the commission said the bids would be considered by the commission later this month.

A. L. Rake and Sons, East Stroudsburg was low bidder on the Pennsylvania approach ranging from Route 209 near Milford to the new two-lane structure extending from Milford to Montague, N.J.

The Rake firm—headed by County Commissioner Adolph Rake—filed a bid of $135,583.

The George M. Brewster Company of Bogota, N.J.—Brewster is also a "local" man because of an elaborate estate at Lord's Valley Pike County—is the low bidder on the Pennsylvania approach to the 2,500-foot long, four-lane bridge at Delaware Water Gap.

Brewster's bid is $289,187.

Approach to the two-lane Portland bridge was given a low bid of $449,475 by S. J. Groves and Sons Company, Woodbridge, N.J. This approach extends from Route 46 South of Portland to Route 611 near the railroad underpass between Portland and Mt. Bethel.

The Delaware Water Gap-Pennsylvania approach is comparatively short, covering a toll bridge plaza site.

The Milford Bridge is the only one where approaches on both Pennsylvania and New Jersey sides are built completely by the Bridge Commission. The Water Gap and Portland bridge approaches involve work by the Pennsylvania Highway Department.

The commission is expected to ask for bids on the New Jersey approaches to the three bridges later this month.

Occupants of properties in the way of the approaches or other bridge construction have already been notified to vacate. The commission took possession of these properties last October.

Arnall Seeks Tighter Curbs

Washington (AP)—The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) told Congress yesterday a quick change in the price control law is needed to prevent higher food prices and chaotic conditions in the merchandising trade.

OPS boss Ellis Arnall said that unless provisions of the Capehart amendment are clarified he will be compelled to boost ceiling prices on stocks in hundreds of thousands of food stores across the country.

A recent court decision, he reported, also made it possible for all sellers of merchandise to seek price increases under the amendment. Arnall said the effects of the decision could be "disastrous to effective price stabilization."

In letters to the Senate and House Banking Committees, which handle controls legislation, the OPS chief said that if the nation's merchandisers lined up for price increases it would make uniform dollars-and-cents ceilings or standard markups almost impossible, and create a virtually impossible administrative problem.

Eisenhower Plans Only One Speech

By The Associated Press

Gen. Eisenhower said again last night he does not plan to make any campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, while Sen. Taft said he has almost completed his campaign.

"If the people want me for president, they will know where to find me," Eisenhower told reporters in Oslo, Norway.

Except for a long-planned speech at Abilene, Kans., on June 4 Eisenhower said he has no plans for other speeches in this country.

Barden Claims Labor Controls Wage Board

Washington (AP) — Chairman Barden (D-NC) of the House Labor Committee declared yesterday there is a pronounced feeling in Congress and the nation that the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) is stacked in favor of organized labor.

He said he did not mean that the board was "stacked with dishonest men," but that "there are too many men put on there who were of the same mind." The public members of the board, he said, "have been mixed up in the labor movement."

Barden's bristling statement wound up a three-day appearance before the committee of Nathan P. Feinsinger, WSB chairman, who has undergone pointed questioning about the board's controversial steel wage decision.

Feinsinger replied that the six public members of the board were not protagonists of organized labor, but he readily conceded that a number of them—himself included—were active in the labor relations field.

He told Barden the board was only discharging the obligations put upon it by Congress under the economic controls law.

Ike In Favor Of Aid Cuts

Washington (AP)— Secretary of State Acheson and Gen. Omar Bradley yesterday opposed any slash in the administration's $7,900,000,000 foreign aid budget. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said "reasonable cuts" would not be fatal to Western Europe's defense.

Acheson and Bradley gave their testimony at a closed-door session of the Senate Armed Services Committee shortly after Eisenhower spoke out on the same subject during a farewell tour of North Atlantic Treaty nations.

Eisenhower is scheduled to quit his post as supreme Allied commander in Europe on June 1 and return to the United States to push his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

Expanding on an earlier statement that a cut of a billion dollars would be "heavily and seniously felt," Eisenhower told newsmen in Copenhagen, Denmark, yesterday:

"In an estimate of funds needed, there is always some little room for give and take.

"Skillful men can always absorb some cuts; likewise, they can probably use more. Reasonable cuts would never be regarded as fatal, either here or at home."

The five-star general had previously told Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in a message made public Thursday, that a cut substantially larger than a billion dollars might endanger American security.

Takes No Action

Washington (AP)—The Supreme Court took no action yesterday on a request that it stay an injunction barring three large railroad unions from striking against the government. It may make a ruling today or Monday, however.

PAD Moves To Reserve Gas For Essential Transportation

Washington (AP) — The government yesterday ordered operators of bulk gasoline plants, terminals and large filling stations in 32 states and the District of Columbia to reserve supplies of motor gasoline for possible allocation to maintain essential transportation.

The Petroleum Administration for Defense, which issued the order, estimated it may affect about one-half of all filling stations in the covered area, which includes Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York.

Bruce K. Brown, deputy petroleum administrator, announced the action as another move to conserve supplies affected by the nation-wide strike of oil workers which has shut down roughly one-third of the petroleum industry.

The order declares:

"Operators of service stations in PAD districts one and two having storage facilities for at least 3,000 gallons of fuel and bulk-plant and terminal operators in the same areas must keep on hand at least 3,000 barrels of motor fuel or a quantity equal to five per cent of their total storage capacity, whichever amount is smaller.

PAD officials said they did not expect the order to have any immediate effect on the average motorist.

Brown said the action was taken to insure that enough motor fuel will be kept available to maintain operations of fire engines, police cars, ambulances, transportation and other vehicles serving the public safety or welfare.

"Overall, the nation still has at this time adequate supplies of automotive gasoline," Brown said in a statement.

"Local shortages may occur, however, in the Eastern and Central states because of difficulties in transporting products to the point of need during a period when numerous strikes are occurring at refineries and some terminals."

DPA Discusses Raising Grants

Harrisburg (AP)—Food prices may be the deciding factor on whether some 237,000 Pennsylvanians will see their relief grants increased.

Deputy Secretary Robert P. Wray of the Public Assistance Department made that statement yesterday disclosing food prices have fallen off in the past two months in contrast to peak prices of last December.

Committee Approves McGranery

Washington (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday voted 8 to 4 to approve President Truman's nomination of Federal Judge James P. McGranery as attorney general of the United States.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), who opposed McGranery in four-day committee hearings, promptly announced he will continue his fight to block confirmation of the 56-year-old Philadelphia jurist on the Senate floor.

Ferguson told newsmen he will also file a minority report setting forth the reasons for his opposition.

Witnesses during the hearings variously described McGranery as a tyrant on the bench who set federal attorneys quaking with terror, and as a man of unchallenged integrity and great ability.

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), who opposed McGranery, told reporters he also would speak out against the nomination on the Senate floor, but that he assumed the administration has enough votes to put the nomination over.

"In my judgment," Watkins said, "he does not measure up to the requirements of the high office to which he was appointed, particularly for the tremendous job of cleaning up the government."

Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) said he would send the nomination to the Senate without delay, but would refrain from asking the Senate to act until Ferguson's minority report is completed. Ferguson said it would take three or four days to write the report.

Firemen Plead Guilty

Media (AP)— Three volunteer-firemen yesterday pleaded guilty to starting eight of 21 arson fires they were charged with by police.

Gross Wonders Why Police Brass Escaped Prosecution

New York (AP) — Bookie king Harry Gross said yesterday he can't understand why the top brass of former Mayor William O'Dwyer's police force escaped prosecution for graft.

"Perhaps someone was taken care of—I don't know," Gross told a departmental trial of five policemen. "All I know is they were mentioned and they were left out."

His remarks angered Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Miles F. McDonald, who directed the original probe into police department graft.

McDonald said there might have been more indictments if Gross had been a bit quicker to come clean about his 20-million-dollar-a-year gambling ring.

Anyway, McDonald added in a statement, a graft-probing Brooklyn grand jury indicted everyone against who it thought it had a case.

Gross wound up two and a half days of sensational testimony that far overshadowed the personalities of the five cops on trial. For the first time, the boss bookie publicly exposed the tieup between his gambling ring and crooked cops who siphoned from it one million dollars a year in protection payoffs.

The dapper, 36-year-old bookie named more than 100 cops—plus former Police Commissioner William P. O'Brien, former Chief Inspector August Flath, former Chief of Detectives William Whalen and former First Deputy Fire Commissioner James J. Moran.

Mount Pocono Citizens Win PUC Battle

Mount Pocono — Citizens who have been fighting the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad's attempt to abandon Mount Pocono station won their battle yesterday.

The State Public Utilities commission denied the railroad's petition to close the station.

The decision climaxed a dramatic series of attacks on the move by hundreds of business men, civic groups, housewives, resort operators and fraternal orders.

The railroad filed its petition with the PUC last Fall. Almost immediately the Mount Pocono Rotary Club went into action.

As sponsors of a move to oppose the closing, the Rotary formed a Citizen's committee, with Harry Taylor, now chief clerk of the country, as chairman.

The committee asked for and got all the help it needed from residents of the borough and surrounding area.

Public meetings were held. Speeches were made. Money was supplied to meet immediate needs of printing, legal counsel, hiring of meeting places, and transportation.

The issue remained heated, right up to the final step; a public hearing before PUC examiner Daniel H. Jenkins, Scranton, at the courthouse in Stroudsburg Dec. 5.

The railroad was represented by Gomez Morgan, Scranton, DL&W general counsel.

Citizens' counsel was Elmer D. Christine, borough solicitor and present district attorney, and Charles R. Bensinger Jr.

Chartered buses carried the citizens from Mount Pocono and Swiftwater to the hearing so they could testify. Other residents who wished to be heard drove to Stroudsburg by car.

Many of them were the citizens who had added their names to a protest against PUC approval of the instant application, which had 78 signatures on it.

The head of the biological division of the National Drug Co. at Swiftwater testified on two years' receipt of freight and express shipments worth $2,200, which were paid for at the station.

The postmaster told of receiving all the borough's mail through the station, and the Swiftwater postmaster added that that village too, as well as mail for Scotrun, depended on the station.

A resort owner told of the inconvenience patrons would suffer through closing of the station, and of the passenger, freight and express service used at Mount Pocono station by guests and other resort owners.

The borough's Chamber of Commerce president described the way real estate values would decline in the event of abondonment, and pointed out that numbers of hotel patrons and visitors to the borough had complained that bus service was inadequate and inconvenient.

Testimony taken from a dozen other witnesses appearing on behalf of the Citizen's committee supported and enlarged these stories.

Counsel for the railroad did not specify at the hearing whether the DL & W was making or losing money at Mount Pocono.

Toward the end of the month, both sides had filed briefs with the PUC. Attorneys Christine and Bensinger cleaned up and followed up on all the legal details.

In yesterday's letter from the PUC, stating that the railroad's petition had been denied, it was stated by Harold A. Scragg, PUC chairman:

"While the record discloses that the applicant (the railroad) would save about $4,227 annually if the station at Mount Pocono was abandoned, a minor financial gain alone cannot be considered adequate and sufficient reason for abandonment of the station."

PUC approval of the closing, the letter indicated, could only be given after a finding that "the abandonment is necessary or proper for the service, accommodation, convenience or safety of the public."

Said Scragg, further: "The record is clear that if the station at Mount Pocono is abandoned, the community as a whole would be considerably inconvenienced and that everyone of (the railroad's) patrons at Mount Pocono will suffer some loss of convenience."

It was ordered therefore, Scragg said, that the petition be denied.

The letter showed that "Commissioner Houck" voted against the majority decision of the PUC commission, while "Commissioner Morgal being absent did not participate in the vote . . . "

The station serves an area which is both commercial and residential in character. The area has a summer population of three to four thousand, and a year-round population of about 750. Railroad facilities include the station building and a public delivery track.

The railroad's exhibits showed that the total annual cost of maintaining the station and agency at Mount Pocono was $4,227.08.

Five Presbyterian Churches Of Monroe County Holding Weekend Mission Conference

The Presbyterian Churches of the Stroudsburg area are having a spring missionary conference this weekend with two of the foremost missionary speakers of the denomination, Rev. Richard Shaull, missionary to Colombia, and Dr. Andrew T. Roy, missionary to China.

Mr. Shaull is presently on furlough from the Latin American field and has been a speaker greatly in demand throughout the denomination because of his dynamic presentation of the cause of freedom of religion in Latin American countries, and the challenge and promise of present day Protestant missions in those lands.

Dr. Roy spent many years as a missionary in China, remaining for two years to continue his work at a Christian university under the Communist regime. His first-hand experiences behind the Bamboo Curtain provide a thrilling narrative of frontier missionary life and strategy. He is at present personnel secretary for the Presbyterian Foreign Mission Board.

Tonight at 7:30 the men of the five churches will have an informal discussion meeting with the missionaries at Wyckoff's bungalow. In this meeting the laymen will be given opportunity to ask questions and have discussion about the vital problems concerning the perilous situation for missionary work in countries around the world.

On Sunday morning, the two missionaries will speak in four of the Presbyterian churches. Dr. Roy will speak at the Sunday School hour in Delaware Water Gap, and will preach at the morning worship service in the Shawnee Church. Dr. Shaull will do the same in the East Stroudsburg and Middle Smithfield churches.

Sunday night both missionaries will have an informal discussion in the Stroudsburg church with the young people from all the churches, and will answer questions about missionary work which the young people have submitted.

Following the young people's service, there will be an all church missionary rally at Stroudsburg Presbyterian, in which the congregations of the five churches will unite to hear a presentation by the two missionaries on worldwide missionary strategy in 1952. One of the highlights of this meeting will be a give-and-take debate by the two speakers on the subject, "How the Christian Church Must Meet the Challenge of Communism."

Adventists To Convene

Thirteen Stroudsburg Seventh-Day Adventists will leave Sunday for Reading, Pa., where they will attend the biennial consistuency convention of the East Pennsylvania Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists.

Warren, Robert Christmas, Lewis Oney, Mrs. Emily Bennett, Mrs. Edith Christman, Mrs. Bernice Topakyan, Mrs. Grace Hawk, Mrs. Margaret Kitchen, Mrs. Esther Drake and Charles Loney.

Alternate delegates named by the local church to the convention are Thomas Fairfield and Larry Kitchen.

Local delegates will be joined by more than 500 laymen and ministers from churches in eastern Pennsylvania.

Highlighting the activities of the convention will be the election of officers for the coming two-year period.

Rev. Campbell To Preach On Mother's Day

Tomorrow morning in the First Presbyterian Church of Stroudsburg, the Mother's Day theme will prevail. The pastor, Rev. Ernest T. Campbell, will deliver a sermon on "Mary, The Mother of Jesus." During the course of the service members and friends will be given opportunity to make a special Mother's Day contribution to the Presbyterian Homes for the Aged of central Pennsylvania.

At 7:30 tomorrow night the local church will be host to the neighboring Presbyterian churches of the county in a Presbyterian Foreign Missions Conference. Delegates will be attending this conference from Shawnee, Middle Smithfield, Delaware Water Gap and East Stroudsbug.

Guest speakers for the occasion are two men who have seen service in actual mission work. They are Rev. Richard Shaull, who has served in Colombia, South America and Dr. Andrew Roy, formerly of China. Special music will be provided at both services by the senior vested choir under the leadership of Vernon Imbt.

Mr. Campbell also announces plans for a trip to New York on May 27 when the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Church will celebrate its 150th birthday with a program in Madison Square Garden. It is the pastor's hope to have one hundred members of the local church attend this festive occasion. At the close of both services tomorrow, those desiring to go will be able to register their names on scrolls at the rear of the church. Deacon William Wells is chairman of this project.

Corsages have been made by Mrs. Margaret Fisher for every great grandmother present. A gift will be presented to every mother in attendance. Mrs. Maude Stem, teacher of the Sunshine class of the church school, will read the scripture. Mrs. Isabel J. Leedom, president of the Women's Society for Christian service, will lead the psalter, and the prayer will be offered by Mrs. Harold C. Eaton, the pastor's wife. The ushers are the mothers from Mrs. Kenneth Stine's Sunday School class, Mrs. Wilbur Possinger, Mrs. Raymond LaBarre, Mrs. David Lee, Mrs. David Crane, Mrs. George Ludwig, Mrs. Charles Bachman and Mrs. Donald Snyder.

Ernest Michelfelder will be at the console and the brass trio, Ernest Michelfelder Jr., Robert Stenlake and Barry Lambert will play during the congregational singing. The pastor will read against a musical background Edgar Guest's most famous poem, "It Takes A Heap O' Living".

Pastor Selects Sermon Topic

Rev. Frank H. Blatt, minister of Zion Evangelical and Reformed church, Stroudsburg, has announced as his theme at the morning worship service tomorrow "A Mother With A Sad Life Story."

This is the third in the series of sermons on little known characters of the Bible and especially directed to the thought of the day throughout the churches.

Mrs. Lucy Quig, organist and choir directress, has selected as her prelude, "Songs My Mother Taught Me," by Dvorak. The Junior Choir under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Dunn will sing "Listening Angels" by Stainer with Suzanne Weber and Russell LeBar as soloists.

The Senior Choir of the church will sing the offertory anthem "Memories" by Gertrude Roher.

The flowers in the altar vases have been placed in memory of Mrs. Francis Clark by the family and the flowers in the chancel vase have been placed by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kohl in memory of Mr. Kohl's mother. The nursery for the 11 a. m. service will be in charge of the Dirigo Class and the ushers for the service will be Bernard Rowe, Ernest Setzer, Clinton Warner and Daniel Warner.

A Corsage for all our Great Grandmothers present

A Gift to all Mothers

You Are Cordially Invited!

Our artist is not experimenting with his brush! There is a profound difference between these two days . . .

MOTHER'S Day—with the accent on Mother—is the second Sunday in May, when we honor Motherhood, and express our deep affection for Mother. Mother's DAY—with the accent on Day—is every day of the year. It is Mother's unending labor of love. It is Monday's wash and Tuesday's ironing, the meals to be cooked and the beds to be made, the bruises to be healed and the prayers to be heard.

And at the close of her DAY, Mother has prayers of her own—for her little-ones, her husband and herself.

God is answering many of those prayers through the Church. With its effective program of religious education and worship the Church can supply the spiritual needs in Mother's DAY . . . and in your DAY also!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"All I've Done..."

In all the welter of dismal, sordid, confused and unhappy news that seems to be the world's lot these fast-moving days, we pause this weekend to pay tribute to our Mothers in one of America's most stimulating observances.

Actually, Americans pay tribute to all mothers in all parts of the world tomorrow.

We found something which gave us a great lift in the selection of Mrs. Toy Len Goon as "Mother of the Year." It was in her reaction to the honor—a typical mother's reaction.

This immigrant woman from China for years has been running a laundry in Portland, Me., to support and educate the eight fine Americans she has raised.

Although she is without formal education, she has one son who is a doctor, another a teacher, one a merchant and one in the armed forces. A daughter is a government employee, two younger girls are in school and another works in the laundry.

"All I've done," she says, "is train my children to the best of my ability."

That's "all." But it is what has made this country, especially since there are so many other mothers just like her. Nothing could be more American. Nothing could give all of us a better reason for paying full complete tribute to all mothers tomorrow.

The Art of Getting Along

Sooner or later, a man, if he is wise, discovers that life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, give and take. He learns that it doesn't pay to be a too sensitive soul; that he should let some things go over his head like water off a duck's back. He learns that he who loses his temper usually loses out.

He learns that all men have burnt toast for breakfast now and then, and that he shouldn't take the other fellow's grouch too seriously. He learns that carrying a chip on his shoulder is the easiest way to get into a fight. He learns that the quickest way to become unpopular is to carry tales and gossip about others.

He learns that buck-passing always turns out to be a boomerang, and that it never pays. He comes to realize that the business could run along perfectly well without him. He learns that it doesn't matter so much who gets the credit so long as the business benefits. He learns that even the janitor is human and that it does no harm to smile and say "Good Morning," even if it's raining.

He learns that most of the other fellows are as ambitious as he is, that they have brains as good or better, and that hard work, not cleverness, is the secret of success. He learns to sympathize with the youngster coming into the business, because he remembers how bewildered he was when he first started out.

He learns not to worry when he loses an order, because experience has shown that if he always gives his best, his average will break pretty well. He learns that no man ever got to first base alone, and that it is only through co-operative effort that we move on to better things.

He learns that bosses are not monsters, trying to get the last ounce of work out of him for the least amount of pay, but that they are generally pretty good fellows who have succeeded through hard work and who want to do the right thing. He learns that folks are not any harder to get along within one place than another, and that the "getting along" depends about ninety-eight per cent on his own behavior.

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

The European Policy

Sooner or later, it will have to come out that in spite of the expenditure of billions of dollars, our policy in Western Europe has failed in its essential objective, which is the ultimate defeat of Soviet Russia by diplomacy, psychology or war. Further, that although the American taxpayer has spent tens of billions of dollars on defense since 1945, our Army and Air Force are inferior to those of Soviet Russia. Secretary of Defense Lovett confirms that, but only to frighten Congress into giving him more money.

Thus far, NATO has not produced anything like the army which General Eisenhower envisaged when he asked Congress to give him four divisions. At Lisbon, NATO was reorganized, with an Englishman, Lord Ismay, at its head. The explanation that it is not Eisenhower's plan that we meet Russia man for man, plane for plane, as General Alfred Gruenther has been saying in his speeches in this country, can only be accepted as a recession toward the position of Herbert Hoover, who has opposed the widespread use of American ground troops in Europe.

NATO's initial task is to produce a European army. That has not been accomplished. Those who speak of NATO's success have little point to make, except that a European war did not happen in 1951 nor is there immediate prospect of war in 1952.

For this, NATO cannot take credit, as Russia could today take the initiative in a fighting war, if Stalin wanted to do that, with little fear of effective resistance on the continent of Europe. The reason that war has not come is that the Russians are convinced that they are successful in Asia, which is important to them, and that they are damaging the economy of the United States without firing a shot or losing a man.

The so-called Russian "peace" campaign is based on the assumption that if the United States is forced to spend huge sums on rearming itself and all the non-Soviet countries, the burden will be too great to carry and the American economy will collapse.

Meanwhile, they are building an East-West trade designed not only to supply them but to embarrass us. A phase of this embarrassment is the conflict between the United States and Great Britain over the economic future of Japan, a conflict which can force Japan into the arms of Soviet Russia.

Trade will flow wherever it can without regard to political issues. Even in time of war, trade tries to move where it has no business to go, often through neutral countries. It is like the matter of Polish hams, which have found their way into the American market in spite of the fact that the sale of Polish commodities provides Poland with American dollars, which, in Europe, are of political as well as economic value.

A reader sent me a letter on this subject, written two years ago by Martha Deane, the radio commentator, in which Miss Deare quates the Atlanta Products Corportion:

". . . And we certainly cannot expect to retain or win the favor of friendly peoples in satellite nations under Russian domination, if we insist on treating them all as lepers, incapable of producing even a canned ham without Communist contamination . . ."

Who are these friendly people? Poland is today as much a part of the Soviet empire as Russia or China or Czechoslavakia. That empire seeks our destruction and the flow of dollars in its direction is a peril to our stability. Belatedly, the State Department has reduced the trade between the United States and Soviet countries and now has cut off travel, all of which is correct because it reduces the flow of dollars.

It is a definite phase of the Russian program to encourage the East-West trade, which supplies them with commodities they require and increases the flow of American dollars into Soviet countries. The economy of the Soviet empire is dominated by the Kremlin without regard to national barriers and is used to achieve political as well as economic ends. It is the very same method that the Kremlin employed to encourage British trade in Soviet China in order to separate Great Britain from the United States politically.

NATO is too limited in scope and places too great a burden upon one country, the United States. Our policy must be related to our own economy, if we are to survive this war of attrition.

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

Two sweet girl graduates of the Simsbury Finishing School were happily carving up an ex-roommate over the telephone. "And, my dear," continued one. "Who do you think she's been dating like mad the past month? Her X-ray specialist!" "Humphh!" commented the other, 'I wonder what he sees in her?"

A plane enroute to Des Moines set down at Cedar Rapids unexpectedly one morning to refuel, and out stepped England's dapper diplomat, Anthony Eden. A photographer ran up to take his picture, and the habitual crowd of hangerson at an airport gathered round to gape.

Mr. Eden made it his business to shake hands with everybody in sight before he reembarked. As his plane winged off, a spokesman for the group demanded of the photographer, "Who was that solemn looking bloke we just shook hands with anyhow."

Sunday School Lesson

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

The fourth commandment given by Jehovah to Moses and by him interpreted to the children of Israel, was "Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy."

"Six days thou shalt labor, and do all thy work:

"But the seventh is the sabbath of the Lord thy God; in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, nor the stranger that is within thy gates."

Having created the world in six days, and rested on the seventh, "wherefore the Lord blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it."

Now the rulers of the temple were most particular that the people (and they themselves, presumably) observed this law punctiliously. They watched Jesus eagerly in this matter, as in others, to see if they could catch Him violating it or any other Hebrew law, so that they would have an excuse to take Him into custody.

Their jealous hatged of the man whom multitudes loved and revered, and whose words were listened to with such pleasure and profit, knew no bounds. They would go to any lengths to trap Him in word or deed so they might have an excuse to destroy Him.

So, one day a sabbath when Jesus and His disciples were walking through a "corn" field, wheat field (corn as we know it was not known in that country) being hungry, they picked kernels of corn from the stalks and ate them. Ah, picking the grain was work, the Pharisees evidently reasoned, and that was against the law.

So they said to Jesus, "Behold, why do they on the sabbath day that which is not lawful?"

Jesus knew the scriptures better than these men of the temple. Said He, "Have ye never read what David did, when he had need, and was an hungred, he, and they that were with him? How he went into the house of God in the days of Abiathar the high priest, and did eat the shewbread, which is not lawful to eat but for the priests, and gave them also to them which were with him?

"And He said unto them, 'The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath."

"Therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath."

St. Mark does not tell us what the Pharisees said to that.

Now Jesus went into the Synagogue and the Pharisees watched Him for they saw a man who had a poor withered hand. Would He heal the man on the sabbath?

Christ told the man with the withered hand to stand forth; then He said to the Pharisees, "Is it lawful to do good on the Sabbath days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill?" His enemies held their peace.

Looking about Him with anger and grief at their hardness of heart, He told the man to stretch forth his hand, and he did and "his hand was restored whole as the other."

The Pharisees had nothing to say in the synagogue, but they went and took counsel with more of Christ's opponents, how they might destroy this Man.

Again Jesus was preaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath, and there He saw a badly crippled woman who had been ill for 18 years. She "was bowed together, and so could in no wise lift up herself."

Filled with pity, Christ called her to Him, and said unto her, "Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

"And He laid His hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God."

Now the ruler of the synagogue, instead of being filled with joy and thanksgiving at the poor woman's recovery, was indignant because again it was on the sabbath that the healing took place.

He addressed himself to the people rather than to Jesus, saying, "There are six days in which men ought to work; in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the sabbath day."

Imagine having a chance to cure a hopelessly sick person, and not doing it but waiting until another day, when the person would be suffering, possibly dying in the meantime!

Surely the sabbath was made for man, not man for the sabbath when it comes to the matter of saving someone from suffering or death. Surely God, our loving Father, never meant us to go that far in hallowing the day.

Jesus was obeying His Father's commands when He ministered to those who were afflicted, whatever the day. Do no unnecessary work on that day. Go to church.

The Lord answered the ruler of the synagogue by saying, "Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on his sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering?

"And ought not ths woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan has bound, lo, these 18 years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day?"

"And when He had said these things, all His adversaries were ashamed; and all the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by Him."

The common people always heard Christ gladly; and in this instance it is said that even his enemies were ashamed of their hypocrisy and evil intentions.

Memory verse: "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy." — Exodus 20:8.

Man Reading The Papers

Commissioner McCloy casually dismissed West Germany's adoption of "Deutschland Uber Alles" as its national anthem by arguing "the important thing is not what people sing but how they act." McCloy is wrong on two counts. The songs a nation sings are an indication of its national character — and the singing itself is a significant act . . . The history of the past half-century certifies that "Deutschland Uber Alles" has not only been the German national anthem, but a reflection of its national policies. Its lyrics represent the world-conquering ambitions of the Kaiser's legions as well as the super-race theories of the Nazi hordes. The grim echoes of the ominous anthem have been the thunder of two World Wars . . . Nations live by symbols as well as laws. Frequently the symbols offer a clearer insight into a country's fundamental tenets than the speeches of its leaders. "The Star-Spangled Banner" symbolizes the ideal of liberty and "Deutschland Uber Alles" obviously signifies the ancient German dream of world domination.

The march of free men has never included those who goose-step to the sound of "Deutschland Uber Alles."

The federal tax stamp on bookies was ruled unconstitutional by U. S. District Court Judge Welsh. The decision was hardly a surprise . . . This legislation represented a model of incongruity. It placed Washington in the incredible position of giving a license to a business it considered illegal. The law was designed to destroy a crime by making the Gov't a partner in the illegal activity . . . But more important than the effect on bookies is the concept involved: The individual is the basis of democracy. Thus the preservation of every citizen's privileges depends on the protection of one man's rights. Bookies are entitled to the same Constitutional privileges as brokers . . . At any rate, the ruling indicates Congress is not authorized to invalidate a horseplayer's inalienable right to be a sucker.

History offers an inexhaustible fund of knowledge. But it cannot teach those who refuse to learn . . . Senator Taft's opinions are generally beyond the borders of history. They reach into the realm of perilous nonsense. The other day he called for a 25% cut in military appropriations for 1953 and 1954 and added: "We might as well recognize that we cannot hope to match the Red Army on the continent of Europe or Asia, except perhaps after long preparation" . . . We presume Taft's surrender to the Red Army will be gleefully accepted by the Kremlin. Fortunately, he does not speak for the American people.

The Ohio Senator's record of despair has an appalling consistency. Prior to Pearl Harbor he decried the danger of an attack by Japan and doubted this nation's ability to overcome the Axis powers. His comments today indicate that past blunders have made no impression on Taft.

Several Congressmen have introduced legislation making it illegal to libel any racial or religious group. The noble intent of such a law must be hailed, but its practical application is open to question . . . Bigotry is an auxiliary to lunacy. Basically, racial and religious hatred is a mental ailment. You cannot legislate a disease out of existence. If that were possible, bigotry would have been eradicated a long time ago by the Bill of Rights . . . The therapy for bigotry is psychological, not legislative. A hundred psychiatrists can do more good than a thousand laws.

Presidential campaigners are vowing to preserve world peace. The echoes of their words must inspire loud laughs in Moscow. For these Presidential hopefuls must be aware that the White House cannot make decisions for the Kremlin . . . Tragically, Americans cannot prevent Stalin from starting a war. They can only hope to stop him from winning it.

THE STRAIN IS BEGINNING TO TELL

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

Poor Dragoljub Ivosevic really has nothing to do with this column.

But his story is so touching that I thought I'd tell it to you anyway.

Dragoljub, who is a student of theology, and a poet whose works have never been published, wanted to come to America from his native Yugoslavia.

So he crawled into one of the long metal boxes under the railroad cars that are used for carrying batteries, and started on his way.

But, in Trieste, he was discovered and pulled out.

He was taken before the Circuit Court, together with some others who had tried to work the same stunt.

The Judge asked him why he wanted to go to America.

Wasn't Yugoslavia good enough for him—or for anybody?

Dragoljub replied that he wanted to see the world and particularly America.

"What's to see in America?" the Judge asked.

"Well, there is the Statue of Liberty. And then there is the flea circus in New York."

"Fleas?" queried the judge. "We have them here."

"Yes," replied Dragoljub, "but the American fleas are TRAINED."

The judge gave him eighteen months in the hoosegow where he would have plenty of opportunity to train his own fleas.

You must have read about Paolo Crescenzo, the 69-year-old former railroad laborer from the West Coast, who was recently found camping in New York's Grand Central Terminal with his life savings of $23,350 in some paper bags.

When questioned by the police he told them that he was on his way back home to Italy.

Some thirty-nine years ago he left his wife and came to this country to make his fortune, he said.

Now it was time to go back.

His wife would be waiting for him. He was getting old and it was time to settle down.

They took the money away from him, deposited it in a bank and arranged for its transfer to a bank in Naples.

Well, he got back to Italy all right.

The homecoming was touching.

His wife, now an elderly woman, waited for him.

"Hello, Angela, how are you?" said Paola.

"All right," said Angela.

The two shook hands and got on a bus which took them to their farm near Vinchiaturo, in the Province of Campobasso, near Naples.

But before embarking on the bus Paolo was heard to ask:

"Where's my money?"

America is just what you make it yourself.

To some it is trained fleas. To others it's money.

But to most of those who came to these shores not only to SEE the Statute of Liberty but to enjoy everything for which she stands, it is an IDEAL.

Look at any telephone book or city directory. In them you will find names of every origin.

They have found everything here that they or their ancestors came for.

But here is one piece of advice to all prospective immigrants—and all young Americans as well: If you want trained fleas you have to train them yourself!

Hollywood

—by Gene Handsaker

Hollywood —Peter Lind Hayes and his wife, Mary Healy, say they're going to remain a husband-and-wife act in show business from here on.

"How can a marriage last," Peter asked rhetorically the other day, "if I'm playing the Club Charles in Baltimore, say, and Mary's opening in 'Spring in Brazil', in Chicago?

"You're surrounded by attractive people, and you get lonely," he said.

And so they teamed up professionally five years ago, seven years after they had teamed maritally. They played "saloons," as Peter calls night clubs, and theaters. On their coast-to-coast TV show, "Star of the Family," brown-eyed, pretty Mary is mistress of ceremonies. Pete, handsome and slightly graying, is the stumblebum who impresses nobody (though at home, Mary claims, he's actually the boss).

And they've just finished their first movie together, a comedy fantasy in color called, "The 5,000 Fingers of Dr. T." Peter plays a "romantic, rheumatic plumber," who becomes the hero of a 9-year-old boy whose mother (Mary) orders him to practice the piano.

This successful double act grew out of clowning at parties, where Mary did "a remarkable impression of Ethel Merman," her husband recalled. Hayes, with a long record in show business, interrupted by four years in the Army, is one of the most skilled mimics in the field.

Now, when they're readying a new act for the saloons, they call in 10 or 12 friends to try it on. The friends take notes, and the party becomes an audition. Stanley Kramer, producer of the picture, got the idea of putting Hayes and Healy in it when he saw their act in a Las Vegas night club.

Kramer had his script rewritten to fit the Hayeses. As Peter and Mary described it, it sounded wonderfully cockeyed: 500 kids playing a giant piano in a dream sequence . . . Pete singing weirdly philosophical songs like "You Grind Your Nose on Your Grindstone, and I'll Grind Mine on Mine."

The Hayeses live at New Rochelle, N. Y., with their two small children. Pete denied there's any such thing as seeing too much of each other in working together.

At work, they're just business partners, he declared. "Then all of a sudden I'll say to Mary, 'Hello-o-o!'—and we'll go to Bermuda together."

Moscow Spy At The Cocktail Parties

Cocktail parties in Washington are responsible for grave leakage of top secrets, it is charged. There could be something to this. We are getting a lot of government by cocktail, in fact it seems at times that Washington has more cocktail parties than it has government workers. There are scores of parties where by 8 p.m. almost every guest is taking a slant at the Washington monument and saying, "They ought to do something about that Leaning Tower of Pisa."

We have just obtained a copy of a Russian agent's report of secret data obtained by him at such affairs:

April 26.—Cocktail party tonight extra big. Can report America has at last surpassed U.S.S.R. in drink potency. Martini is now distinct threat to all peace-loving peoples. Extra dry one has devastating power. Attempted to make personal test but blacked out too soon.

April 28.—Drinking situation is revealing highly important developments. America now has "Mystery Hors d'Oeuvre" or "Flying Saucer Canape." Can kill extensively. Also has great disabling qualities. New one with cream cheese, ground onions, sardines and chicken livers on damp toast worse than germ warfare. If this is ever dropped on us all is lost.

April 30.—My operation "Tie One On" progressing favorably.

May 2.—Alarming reference to several new female characters at tonight's parties. Annie Laurie, Caroline and Susanna. Last named coupled with talk of banjo on knee. Suspect this refers to new bazooka. Received your instructions to determine U.S. war plans indicated through "East side, west side," "By the old mill stream" and "You take the high road and I'll take the low road." American groups gather in quartettes and chant these lines at all parties after fifth drink. Advise check on location U.S. Korean forces with reference mill streams, etc. Considerable mention last night of Swanee River may be significant.

May 7.—Another mystery woman being mentioned in capitalistic war plans. Jeanie with the light brown hair. Hope to break code and clear up constant appearance of "June" and "Moon" in groups over bedside piano. Broke into quartette tonight which kept singing something about "The old doken nukket the iron blonde bucket" also "Around her neck she yore a wellow gibbon." May indicate increased belligerency.

May 9.—Unable report today. Last night's party gave first public test of a martini five parts gin, one part vermouth. Everything within eight blocks destroyed. Protected self by crawling under portable bar and holding paper napkin over head, but are in bad shape.

Sherman Shrewws Schaffer says he is glad to hear that the "Shrulitzer Shrize was swun by The Shrike and shroffer it my swarmest conshratualtions." . . . The first words of a New Jersey bank vice-president after his arrest for a $400,000 shortage was "I am too dazed to think fast." . . . If you're dazed, bub, think of the depositors . . . Scotty Robb, the big-league umpire fined for giving a belligerent ballplayer a slight push, has resigned . . . He got out as soon as he realized he was supposed to be an instructor in a dancing school . . . The American home being what it is today we wonder why the Mother of the Year contest doesn't give way to a Baby Sitter of the Month contest . . . The Wasp couldn't have come out of it in worse shape if she had tangled with a Wage Stabilization Board and left everything to arbitration.

The railroad's exhibits also showed, however, that:

Annual freight revenues were $17,530.29 in 1948; $6,563.54 in 1949; $17,716.14 in 1950; and $4,372.58 in the first nine months of 1951.

Urgent Need For Airplane Spotters Noted

A meeting at the courthouse, Stroudsburg, last night explained the urgent need for Ground Observer Corps stations to go on a 24-hour basis.

Capt. Carroll Noll, of the U.S. Air Force, told Monroe County air observers and civil defense personnel that "the chips are down" and that radar alone cannot guard cities of the United States from attack.

The captain explained that air observation stations, scattered throughout the country, were necessary to guard against the possibility of another Pearl Harbor.

A motion picture depicting the way in which air observers relay messages to filter centers and call out fighter pilots was shown by the air force officer.

Col. Harry Serfass, Monroe County ground observer supervisor, said that additional personnel is needed at each of the ten county observation posts. He asked for volunteers to contact the civil defense office or the air observation chief in their localities.

Monroe County posts are located at Tobyhanna, Mt. Pocono, Marshalls Creek, Canadensis, Blakeslee, Reeders, Kunkletown, Brodheadsville, Stroudsburg and Pocono Lake the colonel said. All of these stations need additional help, and most of them need supervisors.

If possible, supervisors should have some Ground Observer training, but this is not absolutely necessary. Interested persons could, if they desire, contact Colonel Serfass personally. He resides at Arlington Heights, Stroudsburg.

Judge Fred W. Davis, Monroe County civil defense director, last night called upon all citizens to get behind Col. Serfass so that Monroe County's posts may go on a 24-hour basis at the call of the Air Force.

He emphasized the point that women, as well as men, may join in this program. Official U.S. Air Force cards are issued to observers, and they will be given instructional material to assist them.

East Borough School Tax Unchanged

New $320,843 Budget Okayed By Directors

The East Stroudsburg School Board approved a $320,843.30 total budget for the 1952-53 school year at its monthly meeting last night.

Simultaneously with announcement of the budget total, the East Borough school directors stated there would be no change in per capita or property taxation in that borough for the coming school year.

East Stroudsburg's millage and per capita rates, therefore, remain at 32 mills for property and $5 per capita tax for each tax-paying resident.

Of the $320,843.30 set aside for the maintenance and management of the public school systems in the borough, approximately $182,675 was specified for use as payment of teachers' salaries in the schools. This figure does not include the salaries of the supervising principal, Carl T. Secor and the high school principal, Ralph O. Burrows.

In other actions last night, the East borough school directors awarded the contract for the school system's coal supply needs to Claude S. Cyphers, 548 Ann St., on the basis of his bid of $9.95 per ton.

Clyde W. Shaffer was named treasurer of the board for the 1952-53 school year and was selected by the board members to present the diplomas to members of the graduating class at the close of this school year. Shaffer has a son graduating from the school with this term.

A school calendar for 1952-53, establishing an opening date of Sept. 4, a Christmas holiday from Dec. 19 to Jan. 5 and an Easter holiday from April 1 to 7, was approved by the board.

The closing date for the 1952-53 school year was set at June 5.

NEWFOUNDLAND — A new paved play area back of the Greene-Dreher school will soon be in use. A community effort, it won a dollar for dollar backing from Huckleberry Hill Hunting & Fishing Club. Cost will be about $2,400. It will include two basketball, three tennis and volleyball courts.

Forest Fires Break Out In Long Pond, Dingmans Areas

Fire wardens were kept on the jump yesterday, but only two actual outbreaks of forest fire were reported up to a late hour last night, E. Clyde Pyle, district forester of the Delaware area, said.

Wardens were chased about by reports from various warning towers of presence of smoke. Fortunately it was caused by burning brush and under control, it was stated.

There was an outbreak in the Mud Run, Long Pond area (unprotected territory) about 10 yesterday morning. This was knocked down before it had a chance to spread.

A stubborn fire broke out at Indian Ladder Falls, south of Dingmans Ferry in Pike County. The wardens were called out about 10:30 a.m. and knocked down the blaze. Around noon the fire broke out again, and firefighters were again called out. The fire was reported under control at dusk last night. Considerable territory was burned over, it was reported.

There was a fire near the Stroudsburg borough dump off Route 209 during the week. Clyde White, custodian, said last night the fire did not start at the dump, but was in a field adjoining the place. While the cause was not known, it was believed to have been caused by children playing in the field.

Laboratory School Pupils Give Annual Music Festival

Pupils of the laboratory school at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College presented their annual music festival yesterday morning in the college auditorium.

Under the direction of their supervisors and student teachers, the various grades presented individual productions on a class theme. The central theme behind the entire festival was "Singing and Rhythms."

The kindergarten class, supervised by Marie C. Brown and Avis Laubach, Hilde Hinterleitner and Mary Ellen Williams, student teachers, presented a program of "Little Dancers", set to music of four varying rhythms.

The first grade presented its rhythm bands with Ruth Zettlemoyer acting as supervisor and Marian Hartung and Amelia Bohnan, student teachers.

"Rhythms and Games We Like" was the title of the second grade portion of the festival under the direction of Thelma Hall, Louise Pethick and Evelyn Baggstrom.

The third grade presented "Songs and Dances" directed by Winona Cary, Rosemarie Eichorn and Paul Robinson.

"Springtime in Songs and Rhythms" was the fourth grade contribution, supervised by Catherine A. Reimard, Barry Transue, Lois Earnhart and Herman Frick. The fifth grade's "May Merry-making" production was directed by Josephine B. Kerns, Leatrice Jacobson, Ursula Lindberg and Albert Conway.

Search Launched For Missing Man

Scranton (AP) — A five-state search for John R. McQueen, 38, of Dickson City, near here, was launched yesterday by District Attorney Carlton M. O'Malley.

The search was started after McQueen's mother-in-law reported to the district attorney that McQueen has been missing since April 4. County detectives yesterday traced him to a central city hotel, where he stayed April 2 and 3, but the trail after that was lost.

McQueen failed to pick up his station wagon on a parking lot near the hotel, O'Malley said. McQueen operates a filling station here. He is a widower and father of one child, a boy.

May Court Calendar Is Cleared

There will be no criminal cases to be presented at the regular May term of court which gets under way Monday at 9 a. m. when the petit jurors report, Elmer D. Christine, district attorney, stated yesterday.

Originally, there were three actions to be brought before the court. One of the cases was disposed of Thursday when Garfield Raymond, of New York City, appeared in court before President Judge Fred W. Davis to answer a charge of failure to stop at the scene of an accident.

Raymond pleaded guilty to the charge which was presented before the court by Dist. Atty. Christine. The defendant was fined $150 and costs, which he paid and was released. The accident in which the defendant's car and a truck were involved happened on Route 209, about four miles west of Stroudsburg about a year ago, the district attorney stated.

The other two cases were continued by the court. Jack Susteck, of New York City, who was the driver of the car in which his brother-in-law, Joseph Fody, was killed at Kresgeville, was defendant in one. This case was continued at the request of the defense because of certain witnesses not being available at this time.

The other action was that of Claude Heckman, Barrett Township, charged with failure to stop at the scene of an accident. The district attorney asked for continuance because an important witness for the prosecution was unavailable. An involuntary manslaughter charge against the defendant was ignored by the grand jury at the February term of court.

Dishwashing is one task that everyone is glad to leave to someone else and only too often that someone is mother. So on this Mother's Day, remember her in a way which will lighten her daily tasks. Williams Product Known Widely Throughout East

The nineteenth of a series of articles dealing with industrial operations in Monroe County is presented today by The Daily Record. Aim of the series is to acquaint all citizens with what is produced here; how it is made, the type of people and skills engaged in such production and the economic impact of each industry on this region.

By James B. Gaffney

A wide sales promotion program by B. K. Williams has enabled him to introduce his complete line of industrial detergents to leading dairies, hotels and other industries throughout the East and has resulted in a wide-range publicity campaign for the Stroudsburgs.

At his new plant on King St. in East Stroudsburg, Williams mixes his own formulas, varying from 50 to 55 different types, depending on the need of the customer and sells his product on the merits of its quality.

A detergent, better explained as a cleansing agent, can be either water or soap, and in this instance the product is a chemically treated soap.

Williams began this business in 1925 at a small plant on Brown St. and last July built a heavily constructed cinder-block plant 60 by 150 feet. Using foresight in constructing, Williams used heavy steel beams overhead in the event the future held an expansion program and another story could be added to the single floor structure. He also built the plant back from the highway so expansion in that direction could be easily worked. But at present there is no intention of expanding, Williams said.

In his laboratory at the plant Williams concocts the various chemical compounds that later are mixed in quantity for shipment to the customer. Depending on the use of the soap, the process requires much concentration and once developed, is used standardly for future orders.

Marvin Abel is the only employe at the King St. plant but his work requires a definite skill and holds much responsibility.

The stages of operation after the formula is developed by Williams include the weighing of each type powder required for the finished product; addition of a wetting agent and the process of mixing, which is accomplished by a huge machine which resembles those used in floor and feed plants.

Poured by Abel into a large tank situated in the floor, the powders are carried to the mixing machine by conveyor-type buckets which automatically transport the powder. Once inside the mixer each ingredient is thoroughly shuffled and when the process is complete, is taken from the machine by Abel, using large barrels to catch the completed soap powder.

Each barrel, whether constructed of metal or of cardboard, is marked separately with the numbered system Williams invented to differentiate one powder from another. In some instances, with hand soap, the powder is colored. This is done so concerns using the powder will know immediately by vision when powder to use for certain phases of their cleaning without examining the tag accompanying the barrel.

A sales agency in Elmira, N. Y. handles most of the promotion in that section but Williams himself covers much ground in a week's time, visiting customers in every section of the east. And another contact made recently is in Florida, so the powder is shipped great distances and more customers are recognizing the product weekly.

The soap powders are used as general cleaners; for hard water; scrubbing floors; cleaning pots and pans; hand dishwashing; bottle cleaner and for the mechanical type can washer. Dairies take most of the product to clean their equipment, bottles and keep their plant in spotless condition.

The soap powder is packed in containers varying from 10 pound tins to 400 pound barrels.

Wyco is the trade name for Williams product. The name when first thought of by Williams was to be Wico (Williams Company), but as the popular manufacturer explained, a friend thought he should substitute "y" instead of "i", and the name Wyco was born.

Williams is chairman of Monroe County's Republican party and shares his time in many ways. But when he points to his chemical powder business he does so with pride. From its small beginning the product has grown greatly and now is known in many sections of the country. And when the opportunity comes, B. K. Williams probably will expand his productivity and branch out even further to carry products from the Stroudsburgs to other cities in the nation.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Saturday's columns are sort of like Thursday night suppers, when you make a valiant attempt to clean up all the left-overs in the icebox before the new batch of groceries has to be put in.

Certainly should note in passing that it took a quarantine sign to make Mrs. Ross Fuller break her record of perfect attendance since she's been president of the Shawnee Presbyterian Auxiliary.

And anyone passing through East Stroudsburg last night couldn't help notice all the pretty evening dresses floating through the soft spring evening—with girls inside, of course, and boys in tow.

They came in all colors and sizes from the Junior High's, through the High School Junior Prom-mers to the college Seniors—but all of them young and fair as the springtime, and smelling sweet as the lilacs that bloom in every dooryard.

Made you sort of homesick for years gone by. But, if it was just the dancing you were envying, there's the Hospital Dance tonight, remember, and the best excuse in the world for going.

Congratulations! You are a shopper who recognizes a good buy when you see one! At $3.98 these gowns are comfortable and cool for summer, pretty as posies and easy to launder, with no ironing needed. A blue gown is on its way.

Port Jervis, N. Y.: Enclosed find a check for $3.95 to pay the balance due on a World Atlas which I recently purchased in your store. I had paid $2 to have this merchandise held in my name.

Thank you, sir. Your Atlas is enroute to you, and we are sure you will find it one of the most useful books in your library. Wyckoff's is proud of the variety of reference books of this type now in stock.

Waterloo, N. Y.: Will you please send me some purple hair nets for which I enclose $1. I cannot get purple in my home town, and would like them in double mesh for long or short hair.

Thank you for your order. Until it came I never realized that Wyckoff's sells purple hair nets. This just goes to show that one should never fail to look around well and ask lots of questions. Your nets are in the mail, and thank you for showing us once again what a wonderfully stocked store ours is!

Elizabethtown, Pa.: Received your package this afternoon and I am very much pleased with your selection. It is lovely. Will you please send me another knitting bag in different colors, and many thanks for your courtesy to me. The Weston cookies also arrived in good condition.

Another knitting bag, similar to the first but now selling at $1, has been forwarded to you. As for the Weston cookies . . . they are delicious, aren't they? We're selling them right now in the store for 31 cents and, as usual, they're going rapidly.

Trenton, New Jersey: I am writing for some information on interesting places. I have a package of souvenir views from your store and would like to know the history of these interesting places. Can you help me?

Sorry, I can't, but I'm glad you like our beautiful county and think of Wyckoff's in connection with it. My advice would be to contact the Monroe County Chamber of Commerce, Stroudsburg, and come in person as soon as you can. When you do, drop in at Wyckoff's . . . we'd enjoy meeting you!

Dr. Wunder Guest Pastor

Rev. Dr. Fred C. Wunder, pastor of St., Matthew's Ev. Lutheran Church, Allentown, will serve as guest minister at the 8 p.m. Mother's Day service Sunday night at St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran Church of Smithfield, Craigs Meadows, it was announced by the vestry last night. His son, Rev. William F. Wunder, who is pastor of Grace Ev. Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, and serving as supply pastor of the Craigs Meadows parish, will assist and read the liturgy at this vesper worship service.

Yetter Jr. and Lloyd Smith will serve as ushers. Altar flowers will be placed by Mrs. Lizzie LaBar and son, Raymond.

A brief congregational meeting will be held immediately after the service on Sunday night to act upon the Church Council recommendation to unite with the Evangelical Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania and Adjacent States. This transfer of synodical allegiance will effect a unification of all Lutheran Churches in Monroe County into one synodical affiliation rather than the two Lutheran Synods which are now existent. Every member is urged by pastor and vestry to attend to vote upon this important matter that is before the congregation. Dr. William Lesh of Stroudsburg RD 2 is preparing a historical sketch of the parish which will be printed in phamphlet form as part of the centennial celebration of the Craigs Meadows Parish in 1954.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Lady Luck and Alden "Red" Fetherman, three letter athlete at Stroudsburg High, hadn't been on speaking terms during the early stages of the present campaign, but the pair patched up their differences in time for the hard working right hander to enjoy his best afternoon of the season yesterday, as the Mountaineers thrilled a Gordon Giffels field crowd with a fine 5-1 victory over Slatington, regarded by many as the best team in the Lehigh Valley League.

Fetherman has pitched better games in the past and at the same time has come up with more hits, but the spirited red-head hasn't been able to combine the two in the outstanding fashion that he did yesterday. The Stroudsburg co-captain hurled a tight four-hitter at Slatington, fanned five, walked two and blasted a 350-foot home run that is still the talk of the borough and all surrounding areas. In other words, Fetherman rose to the top, just like cream in a cold bottle of milk.

It wasn't only the fine showing that Aldy made on the field that impressed this writer, but even more important was the fact that Fetherman made this outstanding showing despite the added pressure of two major league scouts in the stands. Fetherman proved that he is outstanding athletic material, either collegiate or professional, as he played brilliantly, even though he knew the ivory hunters were watching his every movement from the stands. And brother, believe me knowledge of this type adds terrific pressure to one's task.

The scouts present were "Chick" Shotton, of the Cleveland Indians, and Jack Murphy, of the Philadelphia A's, who although both very quiet upon leaving the game, couldn't hide the fact that they were very pleased with what they witnessed on the pitching mound and at home plate, when Fetherman occupied those two positions. Shotton is the same scout that is very high on East Stroudsburg's Ray Steele and according to reports is high on the list for consideration.

While Lady Luck was walking hand-in-hand with Fetherman yesterday, the smiling lady of charm turned her back on Steele and left the lanky righthander on the short end of a 5-1 count at Coplay. It was Steele's second loss of the high school campaign, as compared with the same number of victories. However, from this angle it appears that any hurler who allows only five hits, retires 14 batters on strikes and walks only two, should win every game in which he hangs up a record of this type. However, such wasn't the case yesterday.

Yesterday's victory for Stroudsburg may be more important than appears on the surface. It was the third win as against as many defeats, but a protest of the Palmerton game is still hanging fire. If this game should be ordered replayed and if the Mountaineers should win, it would give the charges of Coach Jerry Stulgaitis a record of four victories and half as many losses and at least a tie for the important top spot in the Lehigh Valley League.

However, on information received by this column yesterday, the Lehigh Valley League isn't equipped to handle a protest at this time. The schedule calls for steps to be taken in this direction today at the circuit's annual track meet, at Palmerton. It is doubtful whether the actual protest will be heard, as up until a late hour last night no officials from Stroudsburg High have been invited to today's confab, to the best of my knowledge. If the story is absolutely the same as mentioned on this page recently, Stroudsburg should be awarded a replay of the game. However—only time will tell.

Stroudsburg High had what this column thinks is a good year financially in athletics as the W. Main St. school shows a favorable balance of $1,242.41 on the entire varsity program. The Mountaineers came up with a balance of $1,685.88 in football, but last baseball season, not the present one, found the school still in the red for $611.81 on the diamond sport. Basketball's balance is still in the red for $244.59, but this is a marked improvement over the $499.21 figure of the previous year.

The football budget is actually a profit of $1,005.68 over the balance of the previous campaign. Baseball's loss last season was actually $111.64 over the previous season. The miscellaneous department also shows a profit of $412.93, which isn't bad. However, any athletic system must show some sort of a profit during these days of high cost operation, if the program is to operate successfully.

Stroudsburg Gains Nod Over Slatington, 5-1

Fetherman Homers In Winning Cause

Alden "Red" Fetherman

Alden "Red" Fetherman pitched and batted Stroudsburg High to a 5-1 victory over a strong Slatington High diamond contingent in a Lehigh Valley League game played at Gordon Giffels field yesterday. The win was the third in six outings for the Mountaineers this season and second favorable nod for Fetherman, as compared to three setbacks.

The lanky right-hander tossed a brilliant four-hit job at Slatington, the same club that took the measure of Palmerton on Tuesday, 18-1.

Fetherman also thrilled the crowd with a 350-foot home run over the left field fence in the bottom of the fourth inning, with Jack Newell on base, after the visiting contingent had broken the scoreless deadlock in the top of the same frame.

Frank Rex doubled off Fetherman, went to third on a fielder's choice and crossed the plate on a fly to right field by Dick Nissen.

The Stroudsburg hurler and Slatington's Marv Kester matched pitch for pitch following the fourth, until the Mountaineers came to their hurler's rescue with three insurance counters in the home half of the sixth round.

Three Runs

Paul "Doc" Lim drew a life on an error and trotted to second as Newell worked Kester for a free ticket to first base. Fetherman forced Newell at second, but Lim moved over to third. The Stroudsburg hurler promptly stole second, while Lim held at third.

Gene Caskie, returned to the lineup after an injury kept him idle, went down on strikes, but Floyd Williams, Karl Weingartner, and Layton DeHaven followed with successive singles to plate the three runs. Al Adelman went down on strikes to end the inning.

Fetherman retired five batters on strikes and walked two, while Kester fanned nine hitters and issued only one free ticket to first.

Weingartner was the only member of the Stroudsburg club able to account for more than one safety, as the colorful shortstop banged out a triple and single.

Kester was the hitting star for Slatington, with two solid singles.

Mountain Loop Features Full Opening Slate

Ten teams are scheduled to take part in the grand opening of the Pocono Mountains Baseball League tomorrow as the circuit which operates almost entirely within the boundaries of Monroe County begins another one of its many diamond campaigns. All games are scheduled to get underway at 2 p.m.

Kunkletown, out to repeat as both regular season and playoff king of the circuit, is scheduled to play host to West End A.C., on the Kunkletown field. The defending title holder will be called upon to face the slants of Jim Correll, who has been named by Manager Bob Rundle to do the pitching for the visiting aggregation.

Rundle announced last night that he would like all his team members to report to the Kunkletown field at 12:30 p.m.

Henryville

Tobyhanna and Analomink are scheduled to cross bats on opening day, with all the action scheduled to take place on the latter's home field in Henryville.

Lake Harmony is destined to be one of the host teams for opening day activity, with Saylorsburg providing the opposition.

Reeders and Bushkill will tangle on the latter's home field, as Bushkill marks its return to the circuit after one year's absence.

Barrett and Tannersville are also scheduled to lift the lid on the 1952 season tomorrow on the Pocono High school field, at Tannersville.

The league is scheduled to feature a full list of games every Sunday, plus Memorial Day and the Fourth of July, with the final contest slated to be played on Monday, August 24.

Bushkill is the only member of the league that didn't play at least a portion of the 1951 campaign, in this same circuit.

Coplay Upsets Cavaliers, 5-1

Barrett Gains Decision Over Polk

Kresgeville — Barrett High School registered its first Monroe County League victory of the season here yesterday, with an 8-2 decision over Polk, on the losing contingent's home field.

The victory enabled the charges of Coach Ed Kriner to boast a record of one favorable decision as against two setbacks, while Polk has yet to win a game in three trips to the diamond.

Barrett pushed across two runs in the second inning to take a brief lead yesterday, but a determined Polk club came right back with two tallies in the home half of the same inning.

Insurance

However, Barrett wasn't to be denied, as Kriner's Kids picked up a singleton in the fourth and then wound up hostilities with two markers in the sixth and three in the top of the seventh.

Roan scattered four Polk singles over the seven-inning route and was never in serious trouble following the second frame.

Barrett's big gun was center fielder Sieg, who blasted a home run and a double in two official trips to the plate and also tallied four runs, in addition to playing a perfect game in the field.

Jim Scheller held Barrett to six hits, but five erors by his supporting cast proved costly in the late innings.

Senators Bow To Shantz

Philadelphia (AP)—Little Bobby Shantz, Philadelphia's five foot six inch southpaw, pitched a six-hit 9-3 triumph over the Washington Senators last night while posting his fourth decision of the year and first over the Senators since 1949.

The Philadelphia victory snapped a six-game Washington winning streak and featured Gus Zernial's second home run of the season with the blast highlighting a four-run fifth inning uprising against starter Bob Porterfield.

Shantz, who came up to the majors in 1949 and won two games that season over Washington, had dropped seven in a row to the Senators before he ended the hex last night.

Homer

One of the blows off his left handed slants was a seventh inning home run by Cass Michaels with a mate aboard. The other Washington tally stemmed from Mickey Vernon's triple and an infield out in the fifth frame.

Giuliani Wins On Birthday

New York, (AP)—Sammy Giuliana, a swarming mauler, celebrated his 20th birthday last night with a technical knockout win over veteran Johhn Williams. Dr. Vincent Nardiello advised referee Teddy Martin to stop the fight after the fifth round ended. Giuliani weighed 155, Williams 145½.

Veteran

Williams, a Montgomery, Ala., warrior of 67 pro starts was down for a nine count just before the fifth ended. He was reeling, practically out on his feet when the round was over as the young Stamford, Conn., middleweight wore him down with his nine and one-half pound weight advantage and heavier punching.

Two solid left hooks, following a right hand punch, drove a tired Williams through the ropes in the fifth. He barely made it at nine.

TTHS Moves Into First Place In Monroe County League By Sinking Chestnuthill, 8-7

Pocono Pines—Tobyhanna Township High school stands alone as the only undefeated baseball team in the Monroe County League today, following its thrilling 8-7 decision over Chestnuthill High, the defending title holder, here on the winning contingent's field.

Although guilty of six misques in the field, TTHS used two big innings to down Chestnuthill, which is currently shooting for its third straight title and fourth crown in five campaigns.

Big Innings

TTHS rattled base hits to all fields in the fourth stanza to come up with four important markers. However, Chestnuthill came back with several timely bingles and took advantage of some poor fielding by the home team to score one time in the top of the second frame and then vaulted into a 5-4 advantage with four tallies in the visiting half of the fourth round.

The home club went in front to stay in the fifth, when the charges of Coach Carl Majer repeated their four-run outburst of the second inning, to lead by an 8-5 count.

However, Chestnuthill remained in the thick of the fight right to the final out by scoring twice in the top of the fifth inning and threatening in the last two frames.

TTHS has won all three of its games thus far this season, while Chestnuthill has two favorable decisions to go with the lone setback.

Marlin May worked the entire distance on the hill for the winning club, and the big right hander scattered five hits over the seven-inning route.

John Bonser and Bob Burkett divided the pitching chore for Chestnuthill, with the former being charged with the setback.

Errors Prove Costly To Visiting Nine

Coplay — East Stroudsburg High School's Lehigh-Northampton League pennant hopes suffered a severe jolt here yesterday, when the Cavaliers went down to a 5-1 setback at the hands of an aroused Coplay club, although Ray Steele pitched a masterful five-hit contest.

Steele retired 14 batters on strike and allowed only two free tickets to first base.

However, Coplay used a pair of singles, a sacrifice, three stolen bases and an interference penalty called on Eastburg's catcher, Leon Alberts, to score two markers.

Steele held the home team away from the plate for the next three rounds, but Coplay drove home three more counters in the bottom half of the fifth stanza.

Hurt

The home club used a single, an error, a passed ball, a hit batsman, a walk, a stolen base and a fielder's choice to plate its late three run outburst.

All but one of the East Stroudsburg errors proved costly in the scoring column.

The Cavaliers averted a shutout by scoring a singleton in the opening half of the stretch frame.

Dick Merring drew a life on an error in center field, went to third on Paul "Candy" Miller's single and crosseed the plate on another error by Coplay's center field guardian.

Hill Gail Out Of Preakness

Louisville, Ky., (AP)—Hill Gail, the Kentucky Derby winner, was declared out of the Preakness yesterday because of an ankle condition.

Trainer Ben Jones of Calumet Farm announced the colt also will have to pass up the Belmont Stakes, which follows the May 17 Preakness.

Jones said a superficial growth on the left front ankle will have to be "fired," racing men's term for burning out the growth with an electric needle.

The decision was reached after Jones conferred with Mrs. Warren Wright, owner of the fabulous Calumet Farm near Lexington, Ky.

Bangor Turns Fountain Hill Into Initial Diamond Victim

Bangor—Bangor High school registered a convincing 11-2 victory over Fountain Hill in a Lehigh-Northampton League baseball encounter fought here at Memorial Park, for its first victory of the present diamond campaign. The Slaters used a big seven-run fourth inning to turn the tide of battle much to the delight of the home fans.

However, it took a brilliant bit of relief pitching by Sherman Schoonover, who allowed only one single in the six and one-third innings the young right hander worked after relieving Rodney "Lefty" Taylor in the top of the fourth, with two outs registered and four counters already across the plate.

Scoring

Bangor moved into the thick of the action with two runs in the third and then went out in front to stay with a seven-run splurge. Bangor added two more insurance runs in the home half of the fifth to take all doubt out of the game.

Both clubs used a pair of pitchers, with Schoonover taking home all honors on his one-hit pitching, while registering nine strikeouts and walking only one man.

Pocono A.C. Plays Host To Portland

Pocono A.C. will play host to Portland at Gordon Giffels field tomorrow, in one of the major early season Blue Mountain League contests. The two undefeated rivals will lock horns in battle at 2:30 p.m., in the first home showing of Pocono A.C. this season.

Monroe County's entry in the Blue Mountain League will fling open its doors to the public, without admission. However, in order to combat the rising cost of operation, the A.C. contingent will take up a collection during the course of the ball game.

Manager John Schoonover announced last night that Chet Lucki, veteran right-hander, would be on the mound for the home club.

Lineup

Schoonover went on to point out that he would send the same lineup into battle tomorrow that won over Stockertown last Sunday, 11-5. This means that reliable John Drew will handle the catching chores, while Dick Schaller is at first base; Bill Frear, second base; Jim Werkheiser, shortstop; Don Sweda, third base; field captain Bob Shick, left field; Harold Freeman, center field, and Al Schoch, right field.

It was also learned last night that Pocono A.C. had signed Frank Everett, a combination pitcher-infielder, from Kunkletown RD 2.

Other games on today's Blue Mountain League schedule will send Stockertown into Roseto, while Johnsonville tangles with West Bangor, on the latter's home field, and Tatamy and East Bangor also collide in a very important early season struggle at East Bangor.

Reds Blast Cardinals, 8-3

St. Louis (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds, scoreless for six innings, broke out with seven runs in the seventh last night against Wilmer "Vinegar Ben" Mizell and defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 8 to 3, to move into third place in the National League race.

Mizell limited the Reds to four hits until the frame in which his own fielding error seemed to upset the highly-regarded rookie southpaw. He was allowed to stay on the mound while 10 Cincinnati players batted, seven scoring on two walks and four hits, one of which was a three-run homer by Joe Adcock.

Fourth Win

Veteran lefthander Ken Reffensberger, gaining his fourth triumph in six decisions, gave up eight hits, including a double and the first major league home run by Les Fusselman, freshman St. Louis catcher.

The Reds, who scored their final run against Jackie Collum in the eighth inning, finished with 10 hits. Ted Kluszewski had three and Adcock and Grady Hatton two apiece.

Oliver Holds Greenbrier Lead

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. (AP)— Ed. Porky Oliver ate lunch while most of the other Greenbrier Open golfers played during the worst of a rain storm, then finished in the sun to hold his lead in the second round yesterday.

The roly poly Lemont, Ill., veteran went one over par-70 despite the break he had in weather. But it was good enough to give him a one stroke lead over Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif., and Sam Snead, the host pro.

First Round

Oliver had a 61 first round Thursday which set him up for a 36-hole total of 132 with 36 more holes to go.

Snead, who had been three strokes behind, pulled up with 69, and Clark hoisted himself right along with a 65, best score in the second round by any of the 37 pros.

Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., was two strokes behind Oliver with his second straight 67.

Karras Joins Cards

Chicago, (AP)—Star halfback Johnny Karras of Illionois yesterday was signed by the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League. He was number two on the Cards' draft list.

Stock Car Race Listed

Gilbert—West End Speedway will hold its second stock car program of the present season tomorrow, when the first roar of the motor is scheduled to be heard at 2 p.m. The track opened its gates for 1952 last Sunday.

A total of five events are scheduled to be held today, including three qualifying heats, a consolation grind and the feature event.

Open

The course is open to all stock cars and there is no entry fee.

Children under 12 accompanied by a parent are admitted free of charge and there is free parking at the track.

Mangrum Ties For First Place In Mexico City

Mexico City (AP) — Veteran Lloyd Mangrum, former United States Open champion, shot an even par 36-36—72 yesterday to move into a tie with Tommy Bolt for the halfway lead in the Pan-American Open Golf Tournament. They had a 36-hole total of 140.

Bolt, Oklahoma-born professional playing out of Durham, N. C., went 12 strokes higher than his record-shattering 64 for the opening round. A lengthened course and a capricious wind forced him to fire a 37-39—76.

Too Easy

The tournament committee decided the course was too easy after Bolt's scorching 18-hole performance Thursday and proceeded to add 400 yards to the layout by placing markers on the back tees.

The course measured 7,347 yards. It plays a par 36-36—72.

Only two players were able to crack par under these revised conditions.

Jack Burke, of Houston, Tex., shot a 34-35—69 and Iverson Martin of Ft. Worth, Tex., fashioned a 35-36—71. They were tied for third place at 142.

Next came Al Besselink, the blonde blaster from Chicago, with 37-35—72 for 144. Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., had a 74 for 145.

Pocono Takes Measure Of Coolbaugh, 8-4

Tobyhanna — Pocono High outlasted Coolbaugh in a Monroe County League baseball game that produced 20 errors here yesterday, as the visiting nine finished on the long end of an 8-4 count.

Pocono broke a scoreless deadlock in the top of the third inning with a four-run outburst, while Harry Dailey blasted a grand-slam home run into center field in the bottom of the fourth to put Coolbaugh back into the game, after the charges of Coach Harry Werkheiser picked up a singleton in the top of the same inning.

Three More

The visiting Pocono contingent made certain of victory by pushing three more counters into paydirt in the top of the seventh and final stanza.

Pocono, although outhit nine to eight, took advantage of 12 errors on Coolbaugh's part to do the bulk of its damage.

The visiting Pocono defense was also guilty of eight boots in the field which also aided the Coolbaugh cause.

Cubs Sell Usher

Chicago, (AP)—The Chicago Cubs yesterday sold outfielder Bob Usher to the Los Angeles Angels, trimming their roster to 30 players.

Yanks Trip Red Sox To Snap Losing Streak

New York (AP) — It took two enemy errors plus hitting from an unexpected source to end the Yankees' three-game losing streak yesterday, as the slump-ridden New Yorkers defeated the Boston Red Sox, 7-4, in a battle of bobbles.

Johnny Sain, who pitched the first seven innings, was the big man in the Yanks' nine-hit attack. In winning his second game, the veteran righthander hit a two-run homer and a double while driving in three runs.

Fatal

But it was three unearned runs in the sixth inning which brought the fading World Champions their fifth victory in 13 games. Errors by third baseman Johnny Pesky and shortstop Jim Piersall helped create the Yanks' three-run inning.

Sain was struck on the right kneecap by a liner from the bat of Billy Goodman in the second inning. He remained in action until the knee stiffened from the exertion of running bases. Bob Hogue, also a former Braves' righthander, finished up. He was touched for two unearned runs in the eighth, due to errors by Gil McDougald, the Yankee second baseman, and himself.

Bill Wight, who hurled the first six innings, was charged with his first loss. He has won once.

White Sox Score In Sixteenth To Nip Tigers

Detroit (AP) — "Minnie" Minoso's two-run triple in the 16th inning won the longest game of the 1952 major league season yesterday, the Chicago White Sox whipping the last-place Detroit Tigers 8-5 in a four hour and 27-minute duel that began in daylight and finished under the lights.

Relief pitcher Bill Kennedy snuffed out a Tiger bases-loaded rally in the last of the 16th by striking out George Lerchen and getting Johnny Groth to ground out.

In all, 34 players saw action.

An error by shortstop Johnny Lipon set up the winning tallies. With one out, Lipon fumbled winning pitcher Harry Dorish's grounder.

Rally

Nellie Fox singled and Minoso tripled. Eddie Robinson's single scored Minoso.

With two out in the 14th and the Tigers trailing 5-4, Steve Souchock drove the first pitch into the lower left field stands to keep the game going. The Sox had moved ahead in the top half of the 14th. Phil Masi walked, moved to second on Chico Carrasquel's sacrifice bunt and scored on Hecter Rodriquez' single to center.

Two Track Meets Slated

Two track meets are scheduled for many of the high schools of the Lehigh Valley today, when both the Lehigh-Northampton and Lehigh Valley Leagues hold their track and field classics, at 2 p.m.

The Lehigh-Northampton League will hold its meet at the Allentown High school field, with Bangor, Wilson Borough, Nazareth and Parkland taking part in the action. Bangor has dropped regular season outings to Nazareth and Wilson Borough.

Palmerton

Lehigh Valley League entries will hold their meet on the Palmerton High field.

Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools are without entry in either event.

Zaharias Favored

Seattle, (AP)—Leading the field by six strokes and playing at the peak of her game, "Babe" Didrikson Zaharias will be the heavy favorite today when the Women's Weathervane Open Golf Tournament enters its third lap at Seattle's Broadmoor Course.

Association Games Listed

Tobyhanna will be one of four teams taking part in their home openers of the 1952 campaign tomorrow, when the Pocono Mountain Association goes into action for the second time this season, with all eight clubs scheduled to swing into action at 2 p.m.

The newly formed Tobyhanna aggregation, loser at Daleville last Sunday, 10-7, will be out to even its record tomorrow when it tangles with Gouldsboro, on the Coolbaugh High field.

Tobyhanna, loaded with teenage talent, is slated to oppose a Gouldsboro club that has won three Pocono Mountain Association pennants.

Home Action

Newfoundland and Mt. Cobb, both triumphant in their opening games last week, will show their stuff before the home folks for the initial time and undoubtedly will receive a hero's welcome.

Newfoundland, with a nod over Gouldsboro to its credit, is at home with South Canaan, at the Wayne County Fair grounds.

Henry "Hank" Botjer, veteran Wayne County pilot, is the sole leader of the Newfoundland-South Sterling entry at the present time, following the resignation of co-manager Mike Stevens this week.

Mt. Cobb will go through its paces on the home field, with Maple Lake providing the opposition.

Daleville Boosters, 1951 playoff champion, and St. Catherine's of Moscow, will tangle on the Maple Lake field.

Social Held At Kunkletown To Honor Mothers

Kunkletown — The young people of St. Matthew's Church here entertained their mothers Wednesday night at a social in the Sunday School rooms.

Dinner was prepared and served by the youths. Following the dinner a program was held. Marian Frable and Marlene Christman sang a duet, "My Mother's Bible." Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

IN MEMORIAM 3

IN MEMORY of our beloved mother, Mrs. Sally Ann Hawk, who passed away October 23, 1951
Farewell, Dear Mother, life's cares are over,
Your willing hands will toil no more;
For us you always did your best,
God grant your soul eternal rest.

You had a cheery smile, a heart of gold,
The Dearest Mother this world could hold;
Kind and thoughtful ready to aid,
No better Mother God ever made.

Mother, you often said we would miss you,
Your words they did come true;
We lost our Best and Dearest Friend,
The day that we lost you.

In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.
Oft times we think of you dear Mother
And our hearts are sad with pain.

Oh, this would be a heaven,
Could we hear your voice again.
You are gone but not forgotten,
Never shall your memory fade.

Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger
Around the grave where you were laid.
There is a token of affection Mother
And a heartache still for you.

Though some have cursed, and mocked and mistreated you
Someday will have to answer, when it's too late.
God called you home to give you Rest and Peace,
Our hearts still long for you Mother Dear on this "Mother's Day" and always.
Sadly missed by sons, daughters, son-in-laws, daughters-in-laws, and grandchildren.

Mixed Reaction Greets Easing Of Credit Rule

Suspension of controls over installment buying is greeted by Monroe County financing institutions, banks, appliance dealers and automotive sales heads in a divergent view. But the psychological effect on the customer is expected to stimulate an abbreviated period of prosperity.

In a general survey conducted yesterday, The Daily Record learned that for the consumer the lifting of restrictions is a welcome relief. For the dealer—one termed it "A terrific impetus to business," and another said "we need some stimulation, but I doubt that this is it."

The decontrol decision, announced at midweek, means no government requirements as to down payments or time to pay for automobiles, furniture, radio and television sets, and scores of other items.

Consensus of bankers in the Stroudsburgs is that time limits may be extended to 24 months on purchases of automobiles, but electrical appliances and other articles still will be held to an 18-month payment period. And it was generally determined that the one-third down payment for cars and 15 percent for most other articles still will be maintained.

Some concerns who operate their own financing programs already have started selling on low down payment, many accepting ten per cent and others even slightly lower. But the erasure of the initial payment entirely is almost out of the question, most businessmen feel.

One phase of business that is expected to receive an innoculation is the used electrical appliance field. One dealer was certain this line would "move" faster. In his opinion many small businessmen may assume the financing themselves to sell the articles which are overcrowding their showrooms.

A local banker saw the absence of regulations as a move coinciding with the forthcoming presidential election. He also pointed to that fact that many automotive and electrical manufacturers were forced to lay off workers lately and the movement toward heavier buying may see them reinstated in their jobs.

The industries expected to profit from the installment-buying ease already are showing a climb on the stock market.

Decision by the Federal Reserve Board to lift the regulations was based on their belief that supplies of the goods are plentiful and that credit curbs are no longer needed to restrain inflation.

Another banker said the regulation evaporation now paves the way for individuals to deposit securities when borrowing money to buy cars or appliances, a restriction under the government's program that was not allowable. This should open the field for many who want to buy new or used cars, he said.

An electrical appliance dealer noted that large stores with their own financing plan probably will fair better than the small businessman who depends on banks and other financing institutions for his grants. He said while the latter probably will still require a sizable down payment and maintain the payment level the same, the bigger business houses would eventually drop their initial payments to practically nothing and extend the payment period to a long time.

Most businessmen contacted agree that it is not a sound policy to sell without some form of down-payment. They feel, however, that by letting customers have more time to pay for their articles will be a great aid to their business.

Regulation "W", which is the control in question, required one-third down payment on purchase of automobiles and 15 per cent down on most other items, with 18 months to pay.

Control powers by the government end June 30 but the Federal Reserve Board is urging Congress to extend the period so the installment buying curbs can be imposed again if needed, should another inflationary surge appear.

Miss Grace Dreher Plans Retirement After Teaching Career Spanning 42 Years

Miss Grace Dreher, 515 Scott St., announced her resignation and retirement yesterday from the public schools of Stroudsburg after a period of 42 years.

During this entire period Miss Dreher served as third and fourth grade teacher in the Stroudsburg elementary schools.

Miss Dreher began teaching in 1910 in the first borough grade school. In 1926 when the borough school building burned, she taught temporary classes in the Stroudsburg Methodist Church. Other classes were held in the Reformed Church and the Morey school building.

Miss Grace Dreher

When the Ramsey school opened in 1927, Miss Dreher was assigned to teach there. In 1939 she transferred to the Morey School building where she has been teaching ever since.

Miss Dreher, who is 62, was born in Stroudsburg, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dreher. She attended East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and has taken graduate work at that institution and at Penn State.

Following her retirement from teaching, she intends to go on "an extended vacation" and to devote most of her time to her many interests within the community.

Official Board Meets To Plan Special Service

Tannersville— The official board and workers of the Tannersville Methodist Church, Rev. LeRoy Bernard, pastor, planned for a special Mother's Day service at the church Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the meeting held at the residence of Mrs. B. H. Granacher this week. The mothers of the Wesley and Reeders churches will join in the service.

Mrs. Lila Rosenberry, wife of the late Dr. Rosenberry, of Stone Church, will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Rosenberry is prominent in women's organizations of the slate belt. She is a member of Christ Evangelical Reformed Church, for many years a teacher in the Sunday School, district deputy grand matron of District 24-B, Order of Eastern Star, and president of the community group of United Church Service. An invitation is extended to all to attend the service.

The business sessions of the two organizations were presided over by Pastor Bernard and Mrs. S. B. Howell.

The women of the Tannersville church are having a bake sale today starting at 11 a. m. at Metzgar's Nu Way Market.

Dodd Bars Hasty Rescue By Force

Captive Asks Study Of Full Red Demands

Seoul, Saturday (AP) — An American general held captive for three days by tough North Korean prisoners of war on Koje Island has asked the Eighth Army not to attempt his rescue by force until full Communist demands are made known.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet disclosed today that the Allied command already had granted the hot-head Communist prisoners some minor demands in an effort to obtain the release of Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd. But the Eighth Army commander made clear he never would yield to "unreasonable" demands from the Reds. He insisted that the 52-year-old general be released unharmed.

Dodd commanded the sprawling prisoner of war camp on Koje Island off Southeast Korea when he was seized Wednesday by North Korean prisoners. He has since been replaced.

"We have granted minor requests of the Communists and have asked them for a statement of their demands—telephones, writing paper, admittance of representatives to other compounds," Van Fleet said in a statement.

"Several requests from Gen. Dodd not to use force until Communist views are determined have been granted," the Eighth Army commander added.

Van Fleet earlier had warned the Communist prisoners he would use force if necessary "at an early date" to free Dodd.

Battle-tested Eighth Army veterans were standing by on Koje ready to go into action if the signal is given.

"Additional security measures at Koje have been taken," Van Fleet said. "The Communists have been told they must hand over Gen. Dodd unharmed."

The last word out from behind the barbed wire of the grim compound was that Dodd was being well treated. He said so himself. By telephone he said he apparently was in little danger.

Dodd, however, was shorn of his command of the rocky island prison off the southest tip of Korea. Van Fleet made this announcement, but did not make clear whether Dodd would be restored to command later.

Van Fleet placed Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson in command of the prison housing 80,000 prisoners and gave him "full authority and command to handle the situation."

Van Fleet also ordered an Army investigation of the incident. For one thing he said he wanted to find out "why the guards didn't rush in for a rescue attempt" when Dodd was seized at the compound gate.

Van Fleet made a flying visit yesterday to the troubled island, scene of two previous prison riots. He would not permit correspondents to go to Koje, saying the situation still was "too delicate."

From Van Fleet's statement, and from an Army news conference that lasted until eary today, correspondents gained a clearer picture of the incredible plight of Dodd.

Dodd was captured by the prisoners of Compound 76 at 3:15 p.m., Wednesday as he stood talking at the gate with their leaders. Lt. Col. Wilbur R. Raven also was seized, but grabbed a gate post and pulled free.

Dodd could be in a permanent building, a tent, or a hut. He has a telephone and is allowed to use it at will. But the line can't be traced to any particular building. The Reds helped install the telephone.

Eleventh Month Of Truce Talks Open With Another Brief, Uneventful Session

Munsan, Korea (AP) — The eleventh month of Korean armistice talks began today with no settlement in sight barring a switch in Red strategy on orders of some far-off Communist capital.

The full armistice delegations met for only 12 minutes today. They agreed to convene again tomorrow.

The Allied negotiators have nothing to say to their Communist opposite numbers except "take it or leave it." The "it" is the final Allied proposal of April 28. So far the Reds have left it.

Yesterday's 10-minute session produced nothing but the usual Communist harangue accusing the Allies of refusing to negotiate and preventing agreement on a truce.

This prompted Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, U. N. Command spokesman, to observe that the Communists appeared to be awaiting instructions. This probably would mean instructions from Peiping, the Chinese Communist capital, or even Moscow.

Seoul (AP) — Allied fighter-bombers yesterday carried their relentless rail busting offensive almost to the Manchurian border, shrugging off a feeble Red jet attempt to interfere.

Twelve swift MIG-15s pounced on eight slower Shooting Star jets and were sent winging back to their Manchurian hideouts with one of them crippled, the Fifth Air Force said. If there were any Allied losses they will be announced in a weekly summary.

The battle was fought near Kusong, only 30 miles south of the Yula River which separates Korea and Manchuria.

Six Nations Sign Draft Of West European Army-Pact

Paris (AP) — Six West European nations last night initialed the draft of a treaty aimed at pooling their military resources in a unified army more than a million strong.

This army, intended to include 400,000 West German troops, is to be placed at the disposal of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) in the Western front against aggression.

It will come under the command of Marshal Alphonse Juin, 62-year-old French military hero, in his capacity as chief of NATO's central sector.

Gen. Eisenhower hailed the initialing of the draft as "a real milestone in the development of Europe's defenses."

In Oslo on a farewell visit as the alliance's supreme commander, he told newsmen the army plan would bring German strength into the European defense system on a basis of self-respect.

But how soon West Germany will be able to start putting soldiers in uniform remains one of the big imponderables of the unification plan.

The Parliaments of the six member nations-France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—must act on ratification of the treaty after their foreign ministers sign it, probably before th end of this month.

East Germany May Recruit 350,000 Men

Berlin (AP)—A Red Wehrmacht which East German government circles said may number 350,000 troops by Autumn was in the making last night.

The Soviet zone's Communist bosses polished up a broad defense bill legalizing this rearmament—ostensibly to counter plans of West Germany to line up defensively with the West.

Usually reliable sources in both East and West Berlin said the bill includes a draft clause which would permit the Communist government to make army service compulsory.

The East zone has already launched a recruiting campaign among its Communist Free Youth and is making ready to tap East Germans reluctant to rush to the colors.

Bill Sent To White House

Washington (AP)— Two bills raising benefit payments to veterans by about 202 million dollars a year were passed by the Senate yesterday. The measures now go to the White House.

The increases are designed to meet cost-of-living boosts since the benefit rates were last fixed.

Controls Hit By Business Advisory Unit

Hot Springs, Va. (AP)—The Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council yesterday gave Secretary Sawyer its advice on price and wage controls: Get rid of them.

A majority of the council's 100,-odd members, including some of the biggest names in industry, reported that business is moving into a "buyers' market" in which ceilings are not needed.

Outside the closed session with Sawyer, several business leaders—including former Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson declared that effective wage control already is lost as a result of the handling of the wage dispute.

Wilson told a reporter business men generally believe "the controls program is a dead duck."

Wage control, he added, "is gone and everybody knows it."

The advisory council called emphatically for greater economy in government, Sawyer told newsmen after the meeting.

"They urged very strongly that it be applied to all government activities, including defense and foreign aid," he said.

Girl Stabbed To Death Before Horrified Crowd

New York (AP) — A 30-year-old man, apparently thwarted in his love for a 15-year-old high school girl, stabbed her to death yesterday before the eyes of horrified passersby on a Manhattan street corner near Pennsylvania Station.

He then ran a few steps and stabbed himself with the weapon, a hunting knife with a 6-inch blade, moaning as police reached him:

"I want to kill myself. I want to die."

Police identified him as Eduardo Charriez, a Brooklyn Postoffice clerk who had first met the girl, Olga Salart, when both previously lived in Puerto Rico. He was not hurt seriously.

Det. James Buckley quoted him as saying he and the girl loved one another and that she had told him earlier yesterday that "if my mother tries to separate us, kill me and then kill yourself."

Low Bidders Announced By Bridge Agency

Low bids totaling approximately $875,000 were received yesterday by the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission at their Trenton, N.J. office for construction of Pennsylvania approaches to three new Delaware River Bridges.

The Associated Press said a spokesman for the commission said the bids would be considered by the commission later this month.

A. L. Rake and Sons, East Stroudsburg was low bidder on the Pennsylvania approach ranging from Route 209 near Milford to the new two-lane structure extending from Milford to Montague, N.J.

The Rake firm — headed by County Commissioner Adolph Rake —filed a bid of $135,583.

The George M. Brewster Company of Bogota, N.J.—Brewster is also a "local" man because of an elaborate estate at Lord's Valley Pike County—is the low bidder on the Pennsylvania approach to the 2,500-foot long, four-lane bridge at Delaware Water Gap.

Brewster's bid is $289,187.

Approach to the two-lane Portland bridge was given a low bid of $449,475 by S. J. Groves and Sons Company, Woodbridge, N.J. This approach extends from Route 46 South of Portland to Route 611 near the railroad underpass between Portland and Mt. Bethel.

The Delaware Water Gap-Pennsylvania approach is comparatively short, covering a toll bridge plaza site.

The Milford Bridge is the only one where approaches on both Pennsylvania and New Jersey sides are built completely by the Bridge Commission. The Water Gap and Portland bridge approaches involve work by the Pennsylvania Highway Department.

The commission is expected to ask for bids on the New Jersey approaches to the three bridges later this month.

Occupants of properties in the way of the approaches or other bridge construction have already been notified to vacate. The commission took possession of these properties last October.

Arnall Seeks Tighter Curbs

Washington (AP)—The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) told Congress yesterday a quick change in the price control law is needed to prevent higher food prices and chaotic conditions in the merchandising trade.

OPS boss Ellis Arnall said that unless provisions of the Capehart amendment are clarified he will be compelled to boost ceiling prices on stocks in hundreds of thousands of food stores across the country.

A recent court decision, he reported, also made it possible for all sellers of merchandise to seek price increases under the amendment. Arnall said the effects of the decision could be "disastrous to effective price stabilization."

In letters to the Senate and House Banking Committees, which handle controls legislation, the OPS chief said that if the nation's merchandisers lined up for price increases it would make uniform dollars-and-cents ceilings or standard markups almost impossible, and create a virtually impossible administrative problem.

Eisenhower Plans Only One Speech

By The Associated Press

Gen. Eisenhower said again last night he does not plan to make any campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, while Sen. Taft said he has almost completed his campaign.

"If the people want me for president, they will know where to find me," Eisenhower told reporters in Oslo, Norway.

Except for a long-planned speech at Abilene, Kans., on June 4 Eisenhower said he has no plans for other speeches in this country.

Barden Claims Labor Controls Wage Board

Washington (AP) — Chairman Barden (D-NC) of the House Labor Committee declared yesterday there is a pronounced feeling in Congress and the nation that the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) is stacked in favor of organized labor.

He said he did not mean that the board was "stacked with dishonest men," but that "there are too many men put on there who were of the same mind." The public members of the board, he said, "have been mixed up in the labor movement."

Barden's bristling statement wound up a three-day appearance before the committee of Nathan P. Feinsinger, WSB chairman, who has undergone pointed questioning about the board's controversial steel wage decision.

Feinsinger replied that the six public members of the board were not protagonists of organized labor, but he readily conceded that a number of them—himself included—were active in the labor relations field.

He told Barden the board was only discharging the obligations put upon it by Congress under the economic controls law.

Ike In Favor Of Aid Cuts

Washington (AP)— Secretary of State Acheson and Gen. Omar Bradley yesterday opposed any slash in the administration's $7,-900,000,000 foreign aid budget. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said "reasonable cuts" would not be fatal to Western Europe's defense.

Acheson and Bradley gave their testimony at a closed-door session of the Senate Armed Services Committee shortly after Eisenhower spoke out on the same subject during a farewell tour of North Atlantic Treaty nations.

Eisenhower is scheduled to quit his post as supreme Allied commander in Europe on June 1 and return to the United States to push his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

Expanding on an earlier statement that a cut of a billion dollars would be "heavily and seniously felt," Eisenhower told newsmen in Copenhagen, Denmark, yesterday:

"In an estimate of funds needed, there is always some little room for give and take.

"Skillful men can always absorb some cuts; likewise, they can probably use more. Reasonable cuts would never be regarded as fatal, either here or at home."

The five-star general had previously told Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in a message made public Thursday, that a cut substantially larger than a billion dollars might endanger American security.

Takes No Action

Washington (AP)—The Supreme Court took no action yesterday on a request that it stay an injunction barring three large railroad unions from striking against the government. It may make a ruling today or Monday, however.

PAD Moves To Reserve Gas For Essential Transportation

Washington (AP) — The government yesterday ordered operators of bulk gasoline plants, terminals and large filling stations in 32 states and the District of Columbia to reserve supplies of motor gasoline for possible allocation to maintain essential transportation.

The Petroleum Administration for Defense, which issued the order, estimated it may affect about one-half of all filling stations in the covered area, which includes Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York.

Bruce K. Brown, deputy petroleum administrator, announced the action as another move to conserve supplies affected by the nation-wide strike of oil workers which has shut down roughly one-third of the petroleum industry.

The order declares:

"Operators of service stations in PAD districts one and two having storage facilities for at least 3,000 gallons of fuel and bulk-plant and terminal operators in the same areas must keep on hand at least 3,000 barrels of motor fuel or a quantity equal to five per cent of their total storage capacity, whichever amount is smaller.

PAD officials said they did not expect the order to have any immediate effect on the average motorist.

Brown said the action was taken to insure that enough motor fuel will be kept available to maintain operations of fire engines, police cars, ambulances, transportation and other vehicles serving the public safety or welfare.

"Overall, the nation still has at this time adequate supplies of automotive gasoline," Brown said in a statement.

"Local shortages may occur, however, in the Eastern and Central states because of difficulties in transporting products to the point of need during a period when numerous strikes are occurring at refineries and some terminals."

DPA Discusses Raising Grants

Harrisburg (AP)—Food prices may be the deciding factor on whether some 237,000 Pennsylvanians will see their relief grants increased.

Deputy Secretary Robert P. Wray of the Public Assistance Department made that statement yesterday disclosing food prices have fallen off in the past two months in contrast to peak prices of last December.

Committee Approves McGranery

Washington (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday voted 8 to 4 to approve President Truman's nomination of Federal Judge James P. McGranery as attorney general of the United States.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), who opposed McGranery in four-day committee hearings, promptly announced he will continue his fight to block confirmation of the 56-year-old Philadelphia jurist on the Senate floor.

Ferguson told newsmen he will also file a minority report setting forth the reasons for his opposition.

Witnesses during the hearings variously described McGranery as a tyrant on the bench who set federal attorneys quaking with terror, and as a man of unchallenged integrity and great ability.

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), who opposed McGranery, told reporters he also would speak out against the nomination on the Senate floor, but that he assumed the administration has enough votes to put the nomination over.

"In my judgment," Watkins said, "he does not measure up to the requirements of the high office to which he was appointed, particularly for the tremendous job of cleaning up the government."

Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) said he would send the nomination to the Senate without delay, but would refrain from asking the Senate to act until Ferguson's minority report is completed. Ferguson said it would take three or four days to write the report.

Firemen Plead Guilty

Media (AP)— Three volunteer-firemen yesterday pleaded guilty to starting eight of 21 arson fires they were charged with by police.

Gross Wonders Why Police Brass Escaped Prosecution

New York (AP) — Bookie king Harry Gross said yesterday he can't understand why the top brass of former Mayor William O'Dwyer's police force escaped prosecution for graft.

"Perhaps someone was taken care of—I don't know," Gross told a departmental trial of five policemen. "All I know is they were mentioned and they were left out."

His remarks angered Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Miles F. McDonald, who directed the original probe into police department graft.

McDonald said there might have been more indictments if Gross had been a bit quicker to come clean about his 20-million-dollar-a-year gambling ring.

Anyway, McDonald added in a statement, a graft-probing Brooklyn grand jury indicted everyone against who it thought it had a case.

Gross wound up two and a half days of sensational testimony that far overshadowed the personalities of the five cops on trial. For the first time, the boss bookie publicly exposed the tieup between his gambling ring and crooked cops who siphoned from it one million dollars a year in protection payoffs.

The dapper, 36-year-old bookie named more than 100 cops—plus former Police Commissioner William P. O'Brien, former Chief Inspector August Flath, former Chief of Detectives William Whalen and former First Deputy Fire Commissioner James J. Moran.

Mount Pocono Citizens Win PUC Battle

Mount Pocono — Citizens who have been fighting the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad's attempt to abandon Mount Pocono station won their battle yesterday.

The State Public Utilities commission denied the railroad's petition to close the station.

The decision climaxed a dramatic series of attacks on the move by hundreds of business men, civic groups, housewives, resort operators and fraternal orders.

The railroad filed its petition with the PUC last Fall. Almost immediately the Mount Pocono Rotary Club went into action.

As sponsors of a move to oppose the closing, the Rotary formed a Citizen's committee, with Harry Taylor, now chief clerk of the country, as chairman.

The committee asked for and got all the help it needed from residents of the borough and surrounding area.

Public meetings were held. Speeches were made. Money was supplied to meet immediate needs of printing, legal counsel, hiring of meeting places, and transportation.

The issue remained heated, right up to the final step; a public hearing before PUC examiner Daniel H. Jenkins, Scranton, at the courthouse in Stroudsburg Dec. 5.

The railroad was represented by Gomez Morgan, Scranton, DL&W general counsel.

Citizens' counsel was Elmer D. Christine, borough solicitor and present district attorney, and Charles R. Bensinger Jr.

Chartered buses carried the citizens from Mount Pocono and Swiftwater to the hearing so they could testify. Other residents who wished to be heard drove to Stroudsburg by car.

Many of them were the citizens who had added their names to a protest against PUC approval of the instant application, which had 78 signatures on it.

The head of the biological division of the National Drug Co. at Swiftwater testified on two years' receipt of freight and express shipments worth $2,200, which were paid for at the station.

The postmaster told of receiving all the borough's mail through the station, and the Swiftwater postmaster added that that village too, as well as mail for Scotrun, depended on the station.

A resort owner told of the inconvenience patrons would suffer through closing of the station, and of the passenger, freight and express service used at Mount Pocono station by guests and other resort owners.

The borough's Chamber of Commerce president described the way real estate values would decline in the event of abondonment, and pointed out that numbers of hotel patrons and visitors to the borough had complained that bus service was inadequate and inconvenient.

Testimony taken from a dozen other witnesses appearing on behalf of the Citizen's committee supported and enlarged these stories.

Counsel for the railroad did not specify at the hearing whether the DL & W was making or losing money at Mount Pocono.

Toward the end of the month, both sides had filed briefs with the PUC. Attorneys Christine and Bensinger cleaned up and followed up on all the legal details.

In yesterday's letter from the PUC, stating that the railroad's petition had been denied, it was stated by Harold A. Scragg, PUC chairman:

"While the record discloses that the applicant (the railroad) would save about $4,227 annually if the station at Mount Pocono was abandoned, a minor financial gain alone cannot be considered adequate and sufficient reason for abandonment of the station."

PUC approval of the closing, the letter indicated, could only be given after a finding that "the abandonment is necessary or proper for the service, accommodation, convenience or safety of the public."

Said Scragg, further: "The record is clear that if the station at Mount Pocono is abandoned, the community as a whole would be considerably inconvenienced and that everyone of (the railroad's) patrons at Mount Pocono will suffer some loss of convenience."

It was ordered therefore, Scragg said, that the petition be denied.

The letter showed that "Commissioner Houck" voted against the majority decision of the PUC commission, while "Commissioner Morgal being absent did not participate in the vote . . . "

The station serves an area which is both commercial and residential in character. The area has a summer population of three to four thousand, and a year-round population of about 750. Railroad facilities include the station building and a public delivery track.

The railroad's exhibits showed that the total annual cost of maintaining the station and agency at Mount Pocono was $4,227.08.

Five Presbyterian Churches Of Monroe County Holding Weekend Mission Conference

The Presbyterian Churches of the Stroudsburg area are having a spring missionary conference this weekend with two of the foremost missionary speakers of the denomination, Rev. Richard Shaull, missionary to Colombia, and Dr. Andrew T. Roy, missionary to China.

Mr. Shaull is presently on furlough from the Latin American field and has been a speaker greatly in demand throughout the denomination because of his dynamic presentation of the cause of freedom of religion in Latin American countries, and the challenge and promise of present day Protestant missions in those lands.

Dr. Roy spent many years as a missionary in China, remaining for two years to continue his work at a Christian university under the Communist regime. His first-hand experiences behind the Bamboo Curtain provide a thrilling narrative of frontier missionary life and strategy. He is at present personnel secretary for the Presbyterian Foreign Mission Board.

Tonight at 7:30 the men of the five churches will have an informal discussion meeting with the missionaries at Wyckoff's bungalow. In this meeting the laymen will be given opportunity to ask questions and have discussion about the vital problems concerning the perilous situation for missionary work in countries around the world.

On Sunday morning, the two missionaries will speak in four of the Presbyterian churches. Dr. Roy will speak at the Sunday School hour in Delaware Water Gap, and will preach at the morning worship service in the Shawnee Church. Dr. Shaull will do the same in the East Stroudsburg and Middle Smithfield churches.

Sunday night both missionaries will have an informal discussion in the Stroudsburg church with the young people from all the churches, and will answer questions about missionary work which the young people have submitted.

Following the young people's service, there will be an all church missionary rally at Stroudsburg Presbyterian, in which the congregations of the five churches will unite to hear a presentation by the two missionaries on worldwide missionary strategy in 1952. One of the highlights of this meeting will be a give-and-take debate by the two speakers on the subject, "How the Christian Church Must Meet the Challenge of Communism."

Rev. Campbell To Preach On Mother's Day

Tomorrow morning in the First Presbyterian Church of Stroudsburg, the Mother's Day theme will prevail. The pastor, Rev. Ernest T. Campbell, will deliver a sermon on "Mary, The Mother of Jesus." During the course of the service members and friends will be given opportunity to make a special Mother's Day contribution to the Presbyterian Homes for the Aged of central Pennsylvania.

At 7:30 tomorrow night the local church will be host to the neighboring Presbyterian churches of the county in a Presbyterian Foreign Missions Conference. Delegates will be attending this conference from Shawnee, Middle Smithfield, Delaware Water Gap and East Stroudsbug.

Guest speakers for the occasion are two men who have seen service in actual mission work. They are Rev. Richard Shaull, who has served in Colombia, South America and Dr. Andrew Roy, formerly of China. Special music will be provided at both services by the senior vested choir under the leadership of Vernon Imbt.

Mr. Campbell also announces plans for a trip to New York on May 27 when the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Church will celebrate its 150th birthday with a program in Madison Square Garden. It is the pastor's hope to have one hundred members of the local church attend this festive occasion. At the close of both services tomorrow, those desiring to go will be able to register their names on scrolls at the rear of the church. Deacon William Wells is chairman of this project.

A Corsage for all our Great Grandmothers present

You Are Cordially Invited!

Our artist is not experimenting with his brush! There is a profound difference between these two days . . .

MOTHER'S Day—with the accent on Mother—is the second Sunday in May, when we honor Motherhood, and express our deep affection for Mother. Mother's DAY—with the accent on Day—is every day of the year. It is Mother's unending labor of love. It is Monday's wash and Tuesday's ironing, the meals to be cooked and the beds to be made, the bruises to be healed and the prayers to be heard.

And at the close of her DAY, Mother has prayers of her own—for her little-ones, her husband and herself.

God is answering many of those prayers through the Church. With its effective program of religious education and worship the Church can supply the spiritual needs in Mother's DAY . . . and in your DAY also!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"All I've Done..."

In all the welter of dismal, sordid, confused and unhappy news that seems to be the world's lot these fast-moving days, we pause this weekend to pay tribute to our Mothers in one of America's most stimulating observances.

Actually, Americans pay tribute to all mothers in all parts of the world tomorrow.

We found something which gave us a great lift in the selection of Mrs. Toy Len Goon as "Mother of the Year." It was in her reaction to the honor—a typical mother's reaction.

This immigrant woman from China for years has been running a laundry in Portland, Me., to support and educate the eight fine Americans she has raised.

Although she is without formal education, she has one son who is a doctor, another a teacher, one a merchant and one in the armed forces. A daughter is a government employee, two younger girls are in school and another works in the laundry.

"All I've done," she says, "is train my children to the best of my ability."

That's "all." But it is what has made this country, especially since there are so many other mothers just like her. Nothing could be more American. Nothing could give all of us a better reason for paying full complete tribute to all mothers tomorrow.

The Art of Getting Along

Sooner or later, a man, if he is wise, discovers that life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, give and take. He learns that it doesn't pay to be a too sensitive soul; that he should let some things go over his head like water off a duck's back. He learns that he who loses his temper usually loses out.

He learns that all men have burnt toast for breakfast now and then, and that he shouldn't take the other fellow's grouch too seriously. He learns that carrying a chip on his shoulder is the easiest way to get into a fight. He learns that the quickest way to become unpopular is to carry tales and gossip about others.

He learns that buck-passing always turns out to be a boomerang, and that it never pays. He comes to realize that the business could run along perfectly well without him. He learns that it doesn't matter so much who gets the credit so long as the business benefits. He learns that even the janitor is human and that it does no harm to smile and say "Good Morning," even if it's raining.

He learns that most of the other fellows are as ambitious as he is, that they have brains as good or better, and that hard work, not cleverness, is the secret of success. He learns to sympathize with the youngster coming into the business, because he remembers how bewildered he was when he first started out.

He learns not to worry when he loses an order, because experience has shown that if he always gives his best, his average will break pretty well. He learns that no man ever got to first base alone, and that it is only through co-operative effort that we move on to better things.

He learns that bosses are not monsters, trying to get the last ounce of work out of him for the least amount of pay, but that they are generally pretty good fellows who have succeeded through hard work and who want to do the right thing. He learns that folks are not any harder to get along within one place than another, and that the "getting along" depends about ninety-eight per cent on his own behavior.

The European Policy

Sooner or later, it will have to come out that in spite of the expenditure of billions of dollars, our policy in Western Europe has failed in its essential objective, which is the ultimate defeat of Soviet Russia by diplomacy, psychology or war. Further, that although the American taxpayer has spent tens of billions of dollars on defense since 1945, our Army and Air Force are inferior to those of Soviet Russia. Secretary of Defense Lovett confirms that, but only to frighten Congress into giving him more money.

Thus far, NATO has not produced anything like the army which General Eisenhower envisaged when he asked Congress to give him four divisions. At Lisbon, NATO was reorganized, with an Englishman, Lord Ismay, at its head. The explanation that it is not Eisenhower's plan that we meet Russia man for man, plane for plane, as General Alfred Gruenther has been saying in his speeches in this country, can only be accepted as a recession toward the position of Herbert Hoover, who has opposed the widespread use of American ground troops in Europe.

NATO's initial task is to produce a European army. That has not been accomplished. Those who speak of NATO's success have little point to make, except that a European war did not happen in 1951 nor is there immediate prospect of war in 1952.

For this, NATO cannot take credit, as Russia could today take the initiative in a fighting war, if Stalin wanted to do that, with little fear of effective resistance on the continent of Europe. The reason that war has not come is that the Russians are convinced that they are successful in Asia, which is important to them, and that they are damaging the economy of the United States without firing a shot or losing a man.

The so-called Russian "peace" campaign is based on the assumption that if the United States is forced to spend huge sums on rearming itself and all the non-Soviet countries, the burden will be too great to carry and the American economy will collapse.

Meanwhile, they are building an East-West trade designed not only to supply them but to embarrass us. A phase of this embarrassment is the conflict between the United States and Great Britain over the economic future of Japan, a conflict which can force Japan into the arms of Soviet Russia.

Trade will flow wherever it can without regard to political issues. Even in time of war, trade tries to move where it has no business to go, often through neutral countries. It is like the matter of Polish hams, which have found their way into the American market in spite of the fact that the sale of Polish commodities provides Poland with American dollars, which, in Europe, are of political as well as economic value.

A reader sent me a letter on this subject, written two years ago by Martha Deane, the radio commentator, in which Miss Deane quates the Atlanta Products Corportion:

". . . And we certainly cannot expect to retain or win the favor of friendly peoples in satellite nations under Russian domination, if we insist on treating them all as lepers, incapable of producing even a canned ham without Communist contamination . . ."

Who are these friendly people? Poland is today as much a part of the Soviet empire as Russia or China or Czechoslavakia. That empire seeks our destruction and the flow of dollars in its direction is a peril to our stability. Belatedly, the State Department has reduced the trade between the United States and Soviet countries and now has cut off travel, all of which is correct because it reduces the flow of dollars.

It is a definite phase of the Russian program to encourage the East-West trade, which supplies them with commodities they require and increases the flow of American dollars into Soviet countries. The economy of the Soviet empire is dominated by the Kremlin without regard to national barriers and is used to achieve political as well as economic ends. It is the very same method that the Kremlin employed to encourage British trade in Soviet China in order to separate Great Britain from the United States politically.

NATO is too limited in scope and places too great a burden upon one country, the United States. Our policy must be related to our own economy, if we are to survive this war of attrition.

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

Two sweet girl graduates of the Simsbury Finishing School were happily carving up an ex-roommate over the telephone. "And, my dear," continued one. "Who do you think she's been dating like mad the past month? Her X-ray specialist!" "Humphh!" commented the other. 'I wonder what he sees in her?"

A plane enroute to Des Moines set down at Cedar Rapids unexpectedly one morning to refuel, and out stepped England's dapper diplomat, Anthony Eden. A photographer ran up to take his picture, and the habitual crowd of hangerson at an airport gathered round to gape.

Mr. Eden made it his business to shake hands with everybody in sight before he reembarked. As his plane winged off, a spokesman for the group demanded of the photographer, "Who was that solemn looking bloke we just shook hands with anyhow."

Sunday School Lesson

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

The fourth commandment given by Jehovah to Moses and by him interpreted to the children of Israel, was "Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy.

"Six days thou shalt labor, and do all thy work:

"But the seventh is the sabbath of the Lord thy God; in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, nor the stranger that is within thy gates."

Having created the world in six days, and rested on the seventh, "wherefore the Lord blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it."

Now the rulers of the temple were most particular that the people (and they themselves, presumably) observed this law punctiliously. They watched Jesus eagerly in this matter, as in others, to see if they could catch Him violating it or any other Hebrew law, so that they would have an excuse to take Him into custody.

Their jealous hatred of the man whom multitudes loved and revered, and whose words were listened to with such pleasure and profit, knew no bounds. They would go to any lengths to trap Him in word or deed so they might have an excuse to destroy Him.

So, one day—a sabbath—when Jesus and His disciples were walking through a "corn" field, wheat field (corn as we know it was not known in that country) being hungry, they picked kernels of corn from the stalks and ate them. Ah, picking the grain was work, the Pharisees evidently reasoned, and that was against the law.

So they said to Jesus, "Behold, why do they on the sabbath day that which is not lawful?"

Jesus knew the scriptures better than these men of the temple. Said He, "Have ye never read what David did, when he had need, and was an hungred, he, and they that were with him? How he went into the house of God in the days of Abiathar the high priest, and did eat the shewbread, which is not lawful to eat but for the priests, and gave them also to them which were with him?

"And He said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath."

"Therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath."

St. Mark does not tell us what the Pharisees said to that.

Now Jesus went into the Synagogue and the Pharisees watched Him for they saw a man who had a poor withered hand. Would He heal the man on the sabbath? Christ told the man with the withered hand to stand forth; then He said to the Pharisees, "Is it lawful to do good on the Sabbath days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill?" His enemies held their peace.

Looking about Him with anger and grief at their hardness of heart, He told the man to stretch forth his hand, and he did and "his hand was restored whole as the other."

The Pharisees had nothing to say in the synagogue, but they went and took counsel with more of Christ's opponents, how they might destroy this Man.

Again Jesus was preaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath, and there He saw a badly crippled woman who had been ill for 18 years. She "was bowed together, and so could in no wise lift up herself."

Filled with pity, Christ called her to Him, and said unto her, "Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

"And He laid His hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God."

Now the ruler of the synagogue, instead of being filled with joy and thanksgiving at the poor woman's recovery, was indignant because again it was on the sabbath that the healing took place.

He addressed himself to the people rather than to Jesus, saying, "There are six days in which men ought to work; in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the sabbath day."

Imagine having a chance to cure a hopelessly sick person, and not doing it but waiting until another day, when the person would be suffering, possibly dying in the meantime!

Surely the sabbath was made for man, not man for the sabbath when it comes to the matter of saving someone from suffering or death. Surely God, our loving Father, never meant us to go that far in hallowing the day.

Jesus was obeying His Father's commands when He ministered to those who were afflicted, whatever the day. Do no unnecessary work on that day. Go to church.

The Lord answered the ruler of the synagogue by saying, "Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on his sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering?

"And ought not ths woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan has bound, lo, these 18 years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day?"

"And when He had said these things, all His adversaries were ashamed; and all the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by Him."

The common people always heard Christ gladly; and in this instance it is said that even his enemies were ashamed of their hypocrisy and evil intentions.

Memory verse: "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy." — Exodus 20:8.

Man Reading The Papers

Commissioner McCloy casually dismissed West Germany's adoption of "Deutschland Uber Alles" as its national anthem by arguing "the important thing is not what people sing but how they act." McCloy is wrong on two counts. The songs a nation sings are an indication of its national character — and the singing itself is a significant act . . . The history of the past half-century certifies that "Deutschland Uber Alles" has not only been the German national anthem, but a reflection of its national policies. Its lyrics represent the world-conquering ambitions of the Kaiser's legions as well as the super-race theories of the Nazi hordes. The grim echoes of the ominous anthem have been the thunder of two World Wars . . . Nations live by symbols as well as laws. Frequently the symbols offer a clearer insight into a country's fundamental tenets than the speeches of its leaders. "The Star-Spangled Banner" symbolizes the ideal of liberty and "Deutschland Uber Alles" obviously signifies the ancient German dream of world domination.

The march of free men has never included those who goose-step to the sound of "Deutschland Uber Alles."

The federal tax stamp on bookies was ruled unconstitutional by U. S. District Court Judge Welsh. The decision was hardly a surprise . . . This legislation represented a model of incongruity. It placed Washington in the incredible position of giving a license to a business it considered illegal. The law was designed to destroy a crime by making the Gov't a partner in the illegal activity . . . But more important than the effect on bookies is the concept involved: The individual is the basis of democracy. Thus the preservation of every citizen's privileges depends on the protection of one man's rights. Bookies are entitled to the same Constitutional privileges as brokers . . . At any rate, the ruling indicates Congress is not authorized to invalidate a horseplayer's inalienable right to be a sucker.

History offers an inexhaustible fund of knowledge. But it cannot teach those who refuse to learn . . . Senator Taft's opinions are generally beyond the borders of history. They reach into the realm of perilous nonsense. The other day he called for a 25% cut in military appropriations for 1953 and 1954 and added: "We might as well recognize that we cannot hope to match the Red Army on the continent of Europe or Asia, except perhaps after long preparation" . . . We presume Taft's surrender to the Red Army will be gleefully accepted by the Kremlin. Fortunately, he does not speak for the American people.

The Ohio Senator's record of despair has an appalling consistency. Prior to Pearl Harbor he decried the danger of an attack by Japan and doubted this nation's ability to overcome the Axis powers. His comments today indicate that past blunders have made no impression on Taft.

Several Congressmen have introduced legislation making it illegal to libel any racial or religious group. The noble intent of such a law must be hailed, but its practical application is open to question . . . Bigotry is an auxiliary to lunacy. Basically, racial and religious hatred is a mental ailment. You cannot legislate a disease out of existence. If that were possible, bigotry would have been eradicated a long time ago by the Bill of Rights . . . The therapy for bigotry is psychological, not legislative. A hundred psychiatrists can do more good than a thousand laws.

Presidential campaigners are vowing to preserve world peace. The echoes of their words must inspire loud laughs in Moscow. For these Presidential hopefuls must be aware that the White House cannot make decisions for the Kremlin . . . Tragically, Americans cannot prevent Stalin from starting a war. They can only hope to stop him from winning it.

THE STRAIN IS BEGINNING TO TELL

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

Poor Dragoljub Ivosevic really has nothing to do with this column.

But his story is so touching that I thought I'd tell it to you anyway.

Dragoljub, who is a student of theology, and a poet whose works have never been published, wanted to come to America from his native Yugoslavia.

So he crawled into one of the long metal boxes under the railroad cars that are used for carrying batteries, and started on his way.

But, in Trieste, he was discovered and pulled out.

He was taken before the Circuit Court, together with some others who had tried to work the same stunt.

The Judge asked him why he wanted to go to America.

Wasn't Yugoslavia good enough for him—or for anybody?

Dragoljub replied that he wanted to see the world and particularly America.

"What's to see in America?" the Judge asked.

"Well, there is the Statue of Liberty. And then there is the flea circus in New York."

"Fleas?" queried the judge. "We have them here."

"Yes," replied Dragoljub, "but the American fleas are TRAINED."

The judge gave him eighteen months in the hoosegow where he would have plenty of opportunity to train his own fleas.

You must have read about Paolo Crescenzo, the 69-year-old former railroad laborer from the West Coast, who was recently found camping in New York's Grand Central Terminal with his life savings of $23,350 in some paper bags.

When questioned by the police he told them that he was on his way back home to Italy.

Some thirty-nine years ago he left his wife and came to this country to make his fortune, he said.

Now it was time to go back.

His wife would be waiting for him. He was getting old and it was time to settle down.

They took the money away from him, deposited it in a bank and arranged for its transfer to a bank in Naples.

Well, he got back to Italy all right.

The homecoming was touching.

His wife, now an elderly woman, waited for him.

"Hello, Angela, how are you?" said Paola.

"All right," said Angela.

The two shook hands and got on a bus which took them to their farm near Vinchiaturo, in the Province of Campobasso, near Naples.

But before embarking on the bus Paolo was heard to ask:

"Where's my money?"

America is just what you make it yourself.

To some it is trained fleas. To others it's money.

But to most of those who came to these shores not only to SEE the Statute of Liberty but to enjoy everything for which she stands, it is an IDEAL.

Look at any telephone book or city directory. In them you will find names of every origin.

They have found everything here that they or their ancestors came for.

But here is one piece of advice to all prospective immigrants—and all young Americans as well: If you want trained fleas you have to train them yourself!

Hollywood

Hollywood —Peter Lind Hayes and his wife, Mary Healy, say they're going to remain a husband-and-wife act in show business from here on.

"How can a marriage last," Peter asked rhetorically the other day, "if I'm playing the Club Charles in Baltimore, say, and Mary's opening in 'Spring in Brazil' in Chicago?

"You're surrounded by attractive people, and you get lonely," he said.

And so they teamed up professionally five years ago, seven years after they had teamed maritally. They played "saloons," as Peter calls night clubs, and theaters. On their coast-to-coast TV show, "Star of the Family," brown-eyed, pretty Mary is mistress of ceremonies. Pete, handsome and slightly graying, is the stumblebum who impresses nobody (though at home, Mary claims, he's actually the boss).

And they've just finished their first movie together, a comedy fantasy in color called, "The 5,000 Fingers of Dr. T." Peter plays a "romantic, rheumatic plumber," who becomes the hero of a 9-year-old boy whose mother (Mary) orders him to practice the piano.

This successful double act grew out of clowning at parties, where Mary did "a remarkable impression of Ethel Merman," her husband recalled. Hayes, with a long record in show business, interrupted by four years in the Army, is one of the most skilled mimics in the field.

Now, when they're readying a new act for the saloons, they call in 10 or 12 friends to try it on. The friends take notes, and the party becomes an audition. Stanley Kramer, producer of the picture, got the idea of putting Hayes and Healy in it when he saw their act in a Las Vegas night club.

Kramer had his script rewritten to fit the Hayeses. As Peter and Mary described it, it sounded wonderfully cockeyed: 500 kids playing a giant piano in a dream sequence . . . Pete singing weirdly philosophical songs like "You Grind Your Nose on Your Grindstone, and I'll Grind Mine on Mine."

The Hayeses live at New Rochelle, N. Y., with their two small children. Pete denied there's any such thing as seeing too much of each other in working together.

At work, they're just business partners, he declared. "Then all of a sudden I'll say to Mary, 'Hello-o-o!'—and we'll go to Bermuda together."

Moscow Spy At The Cocktail Parties

Cocktail parties in Washington are responsible for grave leakage of top secrets, it is charged. There could be something to this. We are getting a lot of government by cocktail, in fact it seems at times that Washington has more cocktail parties than it has government workers. There are scores of parties where by 8 p.m. almost every guest is taking a slant at the Washington monument and saying, "They ought to do something about that Leaning Tower of Pisa."

We have just obtained a copy of a Russian agent's report of secret data obtained by him at such affairs:

April 26.—Cocktail party tonight extra big. Can report America has at last surpassed U.S.S.R. in drink potency. Martini is now distinct threat to all peace-loving peoples. Extra dry one has devastating power. Attempted to make personal test but blacked out too soon.

April 28.—Drinking situation is revealing highly important developments. America now has "Mystery Hors d'Oeuvre" or "Flying Saucer Canape." Can kill extensively. Also has great disabling qualities. New one with cream cheese, ground onions, sardines and chicken livers on damp toast worse than germ warfare. If this is ever dropped on us all is lost.

April 30.—My operation "Tie One On" progressing favorably.

U.S. is definitely planning war in which women will dominate. Reference to "Nellie," "Genevieve," "Kathleen" and "Sally" stands out in all cocktail party songs. Nellie evidently leader, with much talk about seeing her home, waiting until the sun shines, etc.

May 2.—Alarming reference to several new female characters at tonight's parties. Annie Laurie, Caroline and Susanna. Last named coupled with talk of banjo on knee. Suspect this refers to new bazooka. Received your instructions to determine U.S. war plans indicated through "East side, west side," "By the old mill stream" and "You take the high road and I'll take the low road." American groups gather in quartettes and chant these lines at all parties after fifth drink. Advise check on location U.S. Korean forces with reference mill streams, etc. Considerable mention last night of Swanee River may be significant.

May 7.—Another mystery woman being mentioned in capitalistic war plans. Jeanie with the light brown hair. Hope to break code and clear up constant appearance of "June" and "Moon" in groups over beside piano. Broke into quartette tonight which kept singing something about "The old doken nukket the iron blonde bucket" also "Around her neck she yore a wellow gibbon." May indicate increased belligerency.

May 9.—Unable report today. Last night's party gave first public test of a martini five parts gin, one part vermouth. Everything within eight blocks destroyed. Protected self by crawling under portable bar and holding paper napkin over head, but am in bad shape.

Sherman Shrewws Schaffer says he is glad to hear that the "Shrulitzer Shrize was swun by The Shrike and shroffer it my swarmest conshratualtions." . . . The first words of a New Jersey bank vice-president after his arrest for a $400,000 shortage was "I am too dazed to think fast." . . . If you're dazed, bub, think of the depositors . . . Scotty Robb, the big-league umpire fined for giving a belligerent ballplayer a slight push, has resigned . . . He got out as soon as he realized he was supposed to be an instructor in a dancing school . . . The American home being what it is today we wonder why the Mother of the Year contest doesn't give way to a Baby Sitter of the Month contest . . . The Wasp couldn't have come out of it in worse shape if she had tangled with a Wage Stabilization Board and left everything to arbitration.

Urgent Need For Airplane Spotters Noted

A meeting at the courthouse, Stroudsburg, last night explained the urgent need for Ground Observer Corps stations to go on a 24-hour basis.

Capt. Carroll Noll, of the U.S. Air Force, told Monroe County air observers and civil defense personnel that "the chips are down" and that radar alone cannot guard cities of the United States from attack.

The captain explained that air observation stations, scattered throughout the country, were necessary to guard against the possibility of another Pearl Harbor.

A motion picture depicting the way in which air observers relay messages to filter centers and call out fighter pilots was shown by the air force officer.

Col. Harry Serfass, Monroe County ground observer supervisor, said that additional personnel is needed at each of the ten county observation posts. He asked for volunteers to contact the civil defense office or the air observation chief in their localities.

Monroe County posts are located at Tobyhanna, Mt. Pocono, Marshalls Creek, Canadensis, Blakeslee, Reeders, Kunkletown, Brodheadsville, Stroudsburg and Pocono Lake the colonel said. All of these stations need additional help, and most of them need supervisors.

If possible, supervisors should have some Ground Observer training, but this is not absolutely necessary. Interested persons could, if they desire, contact Colonel Serfass personally. He resides at Arlington Heights, Stroudsburg.

Judge Fred W. Davis, Monroe County civil defense director, last night called upon all citizens to get behind Col. Serfass so that Monroe County's posts may go on a 24-hour basis at the call of the Air Force.

He emphasized the point that women, as well as men, may join in this program. Official U.S. Air Force cards are issued to observers, and they will be given instructional material to assist them.

East Borough School Tax Unchanged

New $320,843 Budget Okayed By Directors

The East Stroudsburg School Board approved a $320,843.30 total budget for the 1952-53 school year at its monthly meeting last night.

Simultaneously with announcement of the budget total, the East Borough school directors stated there would be no change in per capita or property taxation in that borough for the coming school year.

East Stroudsburg's millage and per capita rates, therefore, remain at 32 mills for property and $5 per capita tax for each tax-paying resident.

Of the $320,843.30 set aside for the maintenance and management of the public school systems in the borough, approximately $182,675 was specified for use as payment of teachers' salaries in the schools. This figure does not include the salaries of the supervising principal, Carl T. Secor and the high school principal, Ralph O. Burrows.

In other actions last night, the East borough school directors awarded the contract for the school system's coal supply needs to Claude S. Cyphers, 548 Ann St., on the basis of his bid of $9.95 per ton.

Clyde W. Shaffer was named treasurer of the board for the 1952-53 school year and was selected by the board members to present the diplomas to members of the graduating class at the close of this school year. Shaffer has a son graduating from the school with this term.

A school calendar for 1952-53, establishing an opening date of Sept. 4, a Christmas holiday from Dec. 19 to Jan. 5 and an Easter holiday from April 1 to 7, was approved by the board.

The closing date for the 1952-53 school year was set at June 5.

NEWFOUNDLAND — A new paved play area back of the Greene-Dreher school will soon be in use. A community effort, it won a dollar for dollar backing from Huckleberry Hill Hunting & Fishing Club. Cost will be about $2,400. It will include two basketball, three tennis and volleyball courts.

Forest Fires Break Out In Long Pond, Dingmans Areas

Fire wardens were kept on the jump yesterday, but only two actual outbreaks of forest fire were reported up to a late hour last night, E. Clyde Pyle, district forester of the Delaware area, said.

Wardens were chased about by reports from various warning towers of presence of smoke. Fortunately it was caused by burning brush and under control, it was stated.

There was an outbreak in the Mud Run, Long Pond area (unprotected territory) about 10 yesterday morning. This was knocked down before it had a chance to spread.

A stubborn fire broke out at Indian Ladder Falls, south of Dingmans Ferry in Pike County. The wardens were called out about 10:30 a.m. and knocked down the blaze. Around noon the fire broke out again, and firefighters were again called out. The fire was reported under control at dusk last night. Considerable territory was burned over, it was reported.

There was a fire near the Stroudsburg borough dump off Route 209 during the week. Clyde White, custodian, said last night the fire did not start at the dump, but was in a field adjoining the place. While the cause was not known, it was believed to have been caused by children playing in the field.

Laboratory School Pupils Give Annual Music Festival

Pupils of the laboratory school at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College presented their annual music festival yesterday morning in the college auditorium.

Under the direction of their supervisors and student teachers, the various grades presented individual productions on a class theme. The central theme behind the entire festival was "Singing and Rhythms."

The kindergarten class, supervised by Marie C. Brown and Avis Laubach, Hilde Hinterleitner and Mary Ellen Williams, student teachers, presented a program of "Little Dancers", set to music of four varying rhythms.

The first grade presented its rhythm bands with Ruth Zettlemoyer acting as supervisor and Marian Hartung and Amelia Bohnan, student teachers.

"Rhythms and Games We Like" was the title of the second grade portion of the festival under the direction of Thelma Hall, Louise Pethick and Evelyn Baggstrom.

The third grade presented "Songs and Dances" directed by Winona Cary, Rosemarie Eichorn and Paul Robinson.

"Springtime in Songs and Rhythms" was the fourth grade contribution, supervised by Catherine A. Reimard, Barry Transue, Lois Earnhart and Herman Frick. The fifth grade's "May Merrymaking" production was directed by Josephine B. Kerns, Leatrice Jacobson, Ursula Lindberg and Albert Conway.

A musical interpretation of "Canada" was the sixth grade offering during the morning festival. Pauline Peterson, Joseph Victor, Allan Geuther and Charles Treible were in charge of the group.

Search Launched For Missing Man

Scranton (AP) — A five-state search for John R. McQueen, 38, of Dickson City, near here, was launched yesterday by District Attorney Carlton M. O'Malley.

The search was started after McQueen's mother-in-law reported to the district attorney that McQueen has been missing since April 4. County detectives yesterday traced him to a central city hotel, where he stayed April 2 and 3, but the trail after that was lost.

McQueen failed to pick up his station wagon on a parking lot near the hotel, O'Malley said. McQueen operates a filling station here. He is a widower and father of one child, a boy.

May Court Calendar Is Cleared

There will be no criminal cases to be presented at the regular May term of court which gets under way Monday at 9 a. m. when the petit jurors report, Elmer D. Christine, district attorney, stated yesterday.

Originally, there were three actions to be brought before the court. One of the cases was disposed of Thursday when Garfield Raymond, of New York City, appeared in court before President Judge Fred W. Davis to answer a charge of failure to stop at the scene of an accident.

Raymond pleaded guilty to the charge which was presented before the court by Dist. Atty. Christine. The defendant was fined $150 and costs, which he paid and was released. The accident in which the defendant's car and a truck were involved happened on Route 209, about four miles west of Stroudsburg about a year ago, the district attorney stated.

The other two cases were continued by the court. Jack Susteck, of New York City, who was the driver of the car in which his brother-in-law, Joseph Fody, was killed at Kresgeville, was defendant in one. This case was continued at the request of the defense because of certain witnesses not being available at this time.

The other action was that of Claude Heckman, Barrett Township, charged with failure to stop at the scene of an accident. The district attorney asked for continuance because an important witness for the prosecution was unavailable. An involuntary manslaughter charge against the defendant was ignored by the grand jury at the February term of court.

Automatic Electric Dishwasher

In the average span of married life, a woman will wash 340 tons of dishes and cups, pots and pans. That means a lot of dirty messy work and a lot of steps. Mother can be saved all this work by an electric dishwasher which washes dishes hygienically clean in scalding hot water and dries them sparkling clear.

Dishwashing is one task that everyone is glad to leave to someone else and only too often that someone is mother. So on this Mother's Day, remember her in a way which will lighten her daily tasks. Install an electric dishwasher in your home and save her and other members of the family this unwanted task.

Williams Product Known Widely Throughout East

The nineteenth of a series of articles dealing with industrial operations in Monroe County is presented today by The Daily Record. Aim of the series is to acquaint all citizens with what is produced here; how it is made, the type of people and skills engaged in such production and the economic impact of each industry on this region.

By James B. Gaffney

A wide sales promotion program by B. K. Williams has enabled him to introduce his complete line of industrial detergents to leading dairies, hotels and other industries throughout the East and has resulted in a wide-range publicity campaign for the Stroudsburgs.

At his new plant on King St. in East Stroudsburg, Williams mixes his own formulas, varying from 50 to 55 different types, depending on the need of the customer and sells his product on the merits of its quality.

A detergent, better explained as a cleansing agent, can be either water or soap, and in this instance the product is a chemically treated soap.

Williams began this business in 1925 at a small plant on Brown St. and last July built a heavily constructed cinder-block plant 60 by 150 feet. Using foresight in constructing, Williams used heavy steel beams overhead in the event the future held an expansion program and another story could be added to the single floor structure. He also built the plant back from the highway so expansion in that direction could be easily worked. But at present there is no intention of expanding, Williams said.

In his laboratory at the plant Williams concocts the various chemical compounds that later are mixed in quantity for shipment to the customer. Depending on the use of the soap, the process requires much concentration and once developed, is used standardly for future orders.

Marvin Abel is the only employe at the King St. plant but his work requires a definite skill and holds much responsibility.

The stages of operation after the formula is developed by Williams include the weighing of each type powder required for the finished product; addition of a wetting agent and the process of mixing, which is accomplished by a huge machine which resembles those used in floor and feed plants.

Poured by Abel into a large tank situated in the floor, the powders are carried to the mixing machine by conveyor-type buckets which automatically transport the powder. Once inside the mixer each ingredient is thoroughly shuffled and when the process is complete, is taken from the machine by Abel, using large barrels to catch the completed soap powder.

Each barrel, whether constructed of metal or of cardboard, is marked separately with the numbered system Williams invented to differentiate one powder from another. In some instances, with hand soap, the powder is colored. This is done so concerns using the powder will know immediately by vision when powder to use for certain phases of their cleaning without examining the tag accompanying the barrel.

A sales agency in Elmira, N. Y. handles most of the promotion in that section but Williams himself covers much ground in a week's time, visiting customers in every section of the east. And another contact made recently is in Florida, so the powder is shipped great distances and more customers are recognizing the product weekly.

The soap powders are used as general cleaners; for hard water; scrubbing floors; cleaning pots and pans; hand dishwashing; bottle cleaner and for the mechanical type can washer. Dairies take most of the product to clean their equipment, bottles and keep their plant in spotless condition.

The soap powder is packed in containers varying from 10 pound tins to 400 pound barrels.

Wyco is the trade name for Williams product. The name when first thought of by Williams was to be Wico (Williams Company), but as the popular manufacturer explained, a friend thought he should substitute "y" instead of "i", and the name Wyco was born.

Williams is chairman of Monroe County's Republican party and shares his time in many ways. But when he points to his chemical powder business he does so with pride. From its small beginning the product has grown greatly and now is known in many sections of the country. And when the opportunity comes, B. K. Williams probably will expand his productivity and branch out even further to carry products from the Stroudsburgs to other cities in the nation.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Saturday's columns are sort of like Thursday night suppers, when you make a valiant attempt to clean up all the left-overs in the icebox before the new batch of groceries has to be put in.

Certainly should note in passing that it took a quarantine sign to make Mrs. Ross Fuller break her record of perfect attendance since she's been president of the Shawnee Presbyterian Auxiliary.

And anyone passing through East Stroudsburg last night couldn't help notice all the pretty evening dresses floating through the soft spring evening—with girls inside, of course, and boys in tow.

They came in all colors and sizes from the Junior High's, through the High School Junior Prom-mers to the college Seniors —but all of them young and fair as the springtime, and smelling sweet as the lilacs that bloom in every dooryard.

Made you sort of homesick for years gone by. But if it was just the dancing you were envying, there's the Hospital Dance tonight, remember, and the best excuse in the world for going.

Congratulations! You are a shopper who recognizes a good buy when you see one! At $3.98 these gowns are comfortable and cool for summer, pretty as posies and easy to launder, with no ironing needed. A blue gown is on its way.

Port Jervis, N. Y.: Enclosed find a check for $3.95 to pay the balance due on a World Atlas which I recently purchased in your store. I had paid $2 to have this merchandise held in my name.

Thank you, sir. Your Atlas is enroute to you, and we are sure you will find it one of the most useful books in your library. Wyckoff's is proud of the variety of reference books of this type now in stock.

Waterloo, N. Y.: Will you please send me some purple hair nets for which I enclose $1. I cannot get purple in my home town, and would like them in double mesh for long or short hair.

Thank you for your order. Until it came I never realized that Wyckoff's sells purple hair nets. This just goes to show that one should never fail to look around well and ask lots of questions. Your nets are in the mail, and thank you for showing us once again what a wonderfully stocked store ours is!

Elizabethtown, Pa.: Received your package this afternoon and I am very much pleased with your selection. It is lovely. Will you please send me another knitting bag in different colors, and many thanks for your courtesy to me. The Weston cookies also arrived in good condition.

Another knitting bag, similar to the first but now selling at $1, has been forwarded to you. As for the Weston cookies . . . they are delicious, aren't they? We're selling them right now in the store for 31 cents and, as usual, they're going rapidly.

Trenton, New Jersey: I am writing for some information on interesting places. I have a package of souvenir views from your store and would like to know the history of these interesting places. Can you help me?

Sorry, I can't, but I'm glad you like our beautiful county and think of Wyckoff's in connection with it. My advice would be to contact the Monroe County Chamber of Commerce, Stroudsburg, and come in person as soon as you can. When you do, drop in at Wyckoff's . . . we'd enjoy meeting you!

Dr. Wunder Guest Pastor

Rev. Dr. Fred C. Wunder, pastor of St. Matthew's Ev. Lutheran Church, Allentown, will serve as guest minister at the 8 p.m. Mother's Day service Sunday night at St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran Church of Smithfield, Craigs Meadows, it was announced by the vestry last night. His son, Rev. William F. Wunder, who is pastor of Grace Ev. Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, and serving as supply pastor of the Craigs Meadows parish, will assist and read the liturgy at this vesper worship service.

Dr. Wunder has chosen as his sermon theme, "A Day For A Darling, Mother". Miss Connie Beers will sing an appropriate Mother's Day soprano solo and Miss Jane Lipe will serve as her accompanist and also play the piano for the service. Van D. Yetter Jr. and Lloyd Smith will serve as ushers. Altar flowers will be placed by Mrs. Lizzie LaBar and son, Raymond.

A brief congregational meeting will be held immediately after the service on Sunday night to act upon the Church Council recommendation to unite with the Evangelical Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania and Adjacent States. This transfer of synodical allegiance will effect a unification of all Lutheran Churches in Monroe County into one synodical affiliation rather than the two Lutheran Synods which are now existent. Every member is urged by pastor and vestry to attend to vote upon this important matter that is before the congregation. Dr. William Lesh of Stroudsburg RD 2 is preparing a historical sketch of the parish which will be printed in phamphlet form as part of the centennial celebration of the Craigs Meadows Parish in 1954.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Lady Luck and Alden "Red" Fetherman, three letter athlete at Stroudsburg High, hadn't been on speaking terms during the early stages of the present campaign, but the pair patched up their differences in time for the hard working right hander to enjoy his best afternoon of the season yesterday, as the Mountaineers thrilled a Gordon Giffels field crowd with a fine 5-1 victory over Slatington, regarded by many as the best team in the Lehigh Valley League.

Fetherman has pitched better games in the past and at the same time has come up with more hits, but the spirited red-head hasn't been able to combine the two in the outstanding fashion that he did yesterday. The Stroudsburg co-captain hurled a tight four-hitter at Slatington, fanned five, walked two and blasted a 350-foot home run that is still the talk of the borough and all surrounding areas. In other words, Fetherman rose to the top, just like cream in a cold bottle of milk.

It wasn't only the fine showing that Aldy made on the field that impressed this writer, but even more important was the fact that Fetherman made this outstanding showing despite the added pressure of two major league scouts in the stands. Fetherman proved that he is outstanding athletic material, either collegiate or professional, as he played brilliantly, even though he knew the ivory hunters were watching his every movement from the stands. And brother, believe me knowledge of this type adds terrific pressure to one's task.

The scouts present were "Chick" Shotton, of the Cleveland Indians, and Jack Murphy, of the Philadelphia A's, who although both very quiet upon leaving the game, couldn't hide the fact that they were very pleased with what they witnessed on the pitching mound and at home plate, when Fetherman occupied those two positions. Shotton is the same scout that is very high on East Stroudsburg's Ray Steele and according to reports is high on the list for consideration.

While Lady Luck was walking hand-in-hand with Fetherman yesterday, the smiling lady of charm turned her back on Steele and left the lanky righthander on the short end of a 5-1 count at Coplay. It was Steele's second loss of the high school campaign, as compared with the same number of victories. However, from this angle it appears that any hurler who allows only five hits, retires 14 batters on strikes and walks only two, should win every game in which he hangs up a record of this type. However, such wasn't the case yesterday.

Yesterday's victory for Stroudsburg may be more important than appears on the surface. It was the third win as against as many defeats, but a protest of the Palmerton game is still hanging fire. If this game should be ordered replayed and if the Mountaineers should win, it would give the charges of Coach Jerry Stulgaitis a record of four victories and half as many losses and at least a tie for the important top spot in the Lehigh Valley League.

However, on information received by this column yesterday, the Lehigh Valley League isn't equipped to handle a protest at this time. The schedule calls for steps to be taken in this direction today at the circuit's annual track meet, at Palmerton. It is doubtful whether the actual protest will be heard, as up until a late hour last night no officials from Stroudsburg High have been invited to today's confab, to the best of my knowledge. If the story is absolutely the same as mentioned on this page recently, Stroudsburg should be awarded a replay of the game. However—only time will tell.

Stroudsburg High had what this column thinks is a good year financially in athletics as the W. Main St. school shows a favorable balance of $1,242.41 on the entire varsity program. The Mountaineers came up with a balance of $1,685.88 in football, but last baseball season, not the present one, found the school still in the red for $611.81 on the diamond sport. Basketball's balance is still in the red for $244.59, but this is a marked improvement over the $499.21 figure of the previous year.

The football budget is actually a profit of $1,005.68 over the balance of the previous campaign. Baseball's loss last season was actually $111.64 over the previous season. The miscellaneous department also shows a profit of $412.93, which isn't bad. However, any athletic system must show some sort of a profit during these days of high cost operation, if the program is to operate successfully.

Stroudsburg Gains Nod Over Slatington, 5-1

Fetherman Homers In Winning Cause

Alden "Red" Fetherman

Alden "Red" Fetherman pitched and batted Stroudsburg High to a 5-1 victory over a strong Slatington High diamond contingent in a Lehigh Valley League game played at Gordon Giffels field yesterday. The win was the third in six outings for the Mountaineers this season and second favorable nod for Fetherman, as compared to three setbacks.

The lanky right-hander tossed a brilliant four-hit job at Slatington, the same club that took the measure of Palmerton on Tuesday, 18-1.

Fetherman also thrilled the crowd with a 350-foot home run over the left field fence in the bottom of the fourth inning, with Jack Newell on base, after the visiting contingent had broken the scoreless deadlock in the top of the same frame.

Frank Rex doubled off Fetherman, went to third on a fielder's choice and crossed the plate on a fly to right field by Dick Nissen.

The Stroudsburg hurler and Slatington's Marv Kester matched pitch for pitch following the fourth, until the Mountaineers came to their hurler's rescue with three insurance counters in the home half of the sixth round.

Three Runs

Paul "Doc" Lim drew a life on an error and trotted to second as Newell worked Kester for a free ticket to first base. Fetherman forced Newell at second, but Lim moved over to third. The Stroudsburg hurler promptly stole second, while Lim held at third.

Gene Caskie, returned to the lineup after an injury kept him idle, went down on strikes, but Floyd Williams, Karl Weingartner, and Layton DeHaven followed with successive singles to plate the three runs. Al Adelman went down on strikes to end the inning.

Fetherman retired five batters on strikes and walked two, while Kester fanned nine hitters and issued only one free ticket to first.

Weingartner was the only member of the Stroudsburg club able to account for more than one safety, as the colorful shortstop banged out a triple and single.

Kester was the hitting star for Slatington, with two solid singles.

Mountain Loop Features Full Opening Slate

Ten teams are scheduled to take part in the grand opening of the Pocono Mountains Baseball League tomorrow as the circuit which operates almost entirely within the boundaries of Monroe County begins another one of its many diamond campaigns. All games are scheduled to get underway at 2 p.m.

Kunkletown, out to repeat as both regular season and playoff king of the circuit, is scheduled to play host to West End A.C., on the Kunkletown field. The defending title holder will be called upon to face the slants of Jim Correll, who has been named by Manager Bob Rundle to do the pitching for the visiting aggregation.

Rundle announced last night that he would like all his team members to report to the Kunkletown field at 12:30 p.m.

Henryville

Tobyhanna and Analomink are scheduled to cross bats on opening day, with all the action scheduled to take place on the latter's home field in Henryville.

Lake Harmony is destined to be one of the host teams for opening day activity, with Saylorsburg providing the opposition.

Reeders and Bushkill will tangle on the latter's home field, as Bushkill marks its return to the circuit after one year's absence.

Barrett and Tannersville are also scheduled to lift the lid on the 1952 season tomorrow on the Pocono High school field, at Tannersville.

The league is scheduled to feature a full list of games every Sunday, plus Memorial Day and the Fourth of July, with the final contest slated to be played on Monday, August 24.

Bushkill is the only member of the league that didn't play at least a portion of the 1951 campaign, in this same circuit.

Coplay Upsets Cavaliers, 5-1

Barrett Gains Decision Over Polk

Kresgeville — Barrett High School registered its first Monroe County League victory of the season here yesterday, with an 8-2 decision over Polk, on the losing contingent's home field.

The victory enabled the charges of Coach Ed Kriner to boast a record of one favorable decision as against two setbacks, while Polk has yet to win a game in three trips to the diamond.

Barrett pushed across two runs in the second inning to take a brief lead yesterday, but a determined Polk club came right back with two tallies in the home half of the same inning.

Insurance

However, Barrett wasn't to be denied, as Kriner's Kids picked up a singleton in the fourth and then wound up hostilities with two markers in the sixth and three in the top of the seventh.

Roan scattered four Polk singles over the seven-inning route and was never in serious trouble following the second frame.

Barrett's big gun was center fielder Sieg, who blasted a home run and a double in two official trips to the plate and also tallied four runs, in addition to playing a perfect game in the field.

Jim Scheller held Barrett to six hits, but five erors by his supporting cast proved costly in the late innings.

Senators Bow To Shantz

Philadelphia (AP)—Little Bobby Shantz, Philadelphia's five foot six inch southpaw, pitched a six-hit 9-3 triumph over the Washington Senators last night while posting his fourth decision of the year and first over the Senators since 1949.

The Philadelphia victory snapped a six-game Washington winning streak and featured Gus Zernial's second home run of the season with the blast highlighting a four-run fifth inning uprising against starter Bob Porterfield.

Shantz, who came up to the majors in 1949 and won two games that season over Washington, had dropped seven in a row to the Senators before he ended the hex last night.

Homer

One of the blows off his left handed slants was a seventh inning home run by Cass Michaels with a mate aboard. The other Washington tally stemmed from Mickey Vernon's triple and an infield out in the fifth frame.

Giuliani Wins On Birthday

New York, (AP)—Sammy Giuliana, a swarming mauler, celebrated his 20th birthday last night with a techinical knockout win over veteran Johhn Williams. Dr. Vincent Nardiello advised referee Teddy Martin to stop the fight after the fifth round ended. Giuliani weighed 155, Williams 145½.

Veteran

Williams, a Montgomery, Ala., warrior of 67 pro starts was down for a nine count just before the fifth ended. He was reeling, practically out on his feet when the round was over as the young Stamford, Conn., middleweight wore him down with his nine and one-half pound weight advantage and heavier punching.

Two solid left hooks, following a right hand punch, drove a tired Williams through the ropes in the fifth. He barely made it at nine.

TTHS Moves Into First Place In Monroe County League By Sinking Chestnuthill, 8-7

Pocono Pines—Tobyhanna Township High school stands alone as the only undefeated baseball team in the Monroe County League today, following its thrilling 8-7 decision over Chestnuthill High, the defending title holder, here on the winning contingent's field.

Although guilty of six misques in the field, TTHS used two big innings to down Chestnuthill, which is currently shooting for its third straight title and fourth crown in five campaigns.

Big Innings

TTHS rattled base hits to all fields in the fourth stanza to come up with four important markers. However, Chestnuthill came back with several timely bingles and took advantage of some poor fielding by the home team to score one time in the top of the second frame and then vaulted into a 5-4 advantage with four tallies in the visiting half of the fourth round.

The home club went in front to stay in the fifth, when the charges of Coach Carl Majer repeated their four-run outburst of the second inning, to lead by an 8-5 count.

However, Chestnuthill remained in the thick of the fight right to the final out by scoring twice in the top of the fifth inning and threatening in the last two frames.

TTHS has won all three of its games thus far this season, while Chestnuthill has two favorable decisions to go with the lone setback.

Marlin May worked the entire distance on the hill for the winning club, and the big right hander scattered five hits over the seven-inning route.

John Bonser and Bob Burkett divided the pitching chore for Chestnuthill, with the former being charged with the setback.

Hill Gail Out Of Preakness

Louisville, Ky., (AP)—Hill Gail, the Kentucky Derby winner, was declared out of the Preakness yesterday because of an ankle condition.

Trainer Ben Jones of Calumet Farm announced the colt also will have to pass up the Belmont Stakes, which follows the May 17 Preakness.

Growth

Jones said a superficial growth on the left front ankle will have to be "fired," racing men's term for burning out the growth with an electric needle.

The decision was reached after Jones conferred with Mrs. Warren Wright, owner of the fabulous Calumet Farm near Lexington, Ky.

Softball Openers Set

Two games are scheduled for the opening of the Monroe County Softball League on Monday, both to begin at 6:15 p.m. Kulp's Foundry and Ronson clash at the Stroudsburg Playground, while Union Printers and the Eagles meet at the East Stroudsburg Junior High field.

Errors Prove Costly To Visiting Nine

Coplay — East Stroudsburg High School's Lehigh-Northampton League pennant hopes suffered a severe jolt here yesterday, when the Cavaliers went down to a 5-1 setback at the hands of an aroused Coplay club, although Ray Steele pitched a masterful five-hit contest.

Steele retired 14 batters on strike and allowed only two free tickets to first base.

However, Coplay used a pair of singles, a sacrifice, three stolen bases and an interference penalty called on Eastburg's catcher, Leon Alberts, to score two markers.

Steele held the home team away from the plate for the next three rounds, but Coplay drove home three more counters in the bottom half of the fifth stanza.

Hurt

The home club used a single, an error, a passed ball, a hit batsman, a walk, a stolen base and a fielder's choice to plate its late three run outburst.

All but one of the East Stroudsburg errors proved costly in the scoring column.

The Cavaliers averted a shutout by scoring a singleton in the opening half of the stretch frame.

Bangor Turns Fountain Hill Into Initial Diamond Victim

Bangor—Bangor High school registered a convincing 11-2 victory over Fountain Hill in a Lehigh-Northampton League baseball encounter fought here at Memorial Park, for its first victory of the present diamond campaign. The Slaters used a big seven-run fourth inning to turn the tide of battle, much to the delight of the home fans.

However, it took a brilliant bit of relief pitching by Sherman Schoonover, who allowed only one single in the six and one-third innings the young right hander worked after relieving Rodney "Lefty" Taylor in the top of the fourth, with two outs registered and four counters already across the plate.

Scoring

Bangor moved into the thick of the action with two runs in the third and then went out in front to stay with a seven-run splurge. Bangor added two more insurance runs in the home half of the fifth to take all doubt out of the game.

Both clubs used a pair of pitchers, with Schoonover taking home all honors on his one-hit pitching, while registering nine strikeouts and walking only one man.

Pocono A.C. Plays Host To Portland

Pocono A.C. will play host to Portland at Gordon Giffels field tomorrow, in one of the major early season Blue Mountain League contests. The two undefeated rivals will lock horns in battle at 2:30 p.m., in the first home showing of Pocono A.C. this season.

Monroe County's entry in the Blue Mountain League will fling open its doors to the public, without admission. However, in order to combat the rising cost of operation, the A.C. contingent will take up a collection during the course of the ball game.

Manager John Schoonover announced last night that Chet Lucki, veteran right-hander, would be on the mound for the home club.

Lineup

Schoonover went on to point out that he would send the same lineup into battle tomorrow that won over Stockertown last Sunday, 11-5. This means that reliable John Drew will handle the catching chores, while Dick Schaller is at first base; Bill Frear, second base; Jim Werkheiser, shortstop; Don Sweda, third base; field captain Bob Shick, left field; Harold Freeman, center field, and Al Schoch, right field.

It was also learned last night that Pocono A.C. had signed Frank Everett, a combination pitcher-infielder, from Kunkletown RD 2.

Other games on today's Blue Mountain League schedule will send Stockertown into Roseto, while Johnsonville tangles with West Bangor, on the latter's home field, and Tatamy and East Bangor also collide in a very important early season struggle at East Bangor.

Reds Blast Cardinals, 8-3

St. Louis (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds, scoreless for six innings, broke out with seven runs in the seventh last night against Wilmer "Vinegar Ben" Mizell and defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 8 to 3, to move into third place in the National League race.

Mizell limited the Reds to four hits until the frame in which his own fielding error seemed to upset the highly-regarded rookie southpaw. He was allowed to stay on the mound while 10 Cincinnati players batted, seven scoring on two walks and four hits, one of which was a three-run homer by Joe Adcock.

Fourth Win

Veteran lefthander Ken Reffensberger, gaining his fourth triumph in six decisions, gave up eight hits, including a double and the first major league home run by Les Fusselman, freshman St. Louis catcher.

The Reds, who scored their final run against Jackie Collum in the eighth inning, finished with 10 hits. Ted Kluszewski had three and Adcock and Grady Hatton two apiece.

Oliver Holds Greenbrier Lead

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. (AP)— Ed. Porky Oliver ate lunch while most of the other Greenbrier Open golfers played during the worst of a rain storm, then finished in the sun to hold his lead in the second round yesterday.

The roly poly Lemont, Ill., veteran went one over par-70 despite the break he had in weather. But it was good enough to give him a one stroke lead over Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif., and Sam Snead, the host pro.

First Round

Oliver had a 61 first round Thursday which set him up for a 36-hole total of 132 with 36 more holes to go.

Snead, who had been three strokes behind, pulled up with 69, and Clark hoisted himself right along with a 65, best score in the second round by any of the 37 pros.

Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., was two strokes behind Oliver with his second straight 67.

Chicago, (AP)—Star halfback Johnny Karras of Illionois yesterday was signed by the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League. He was number two on the Cards' draft list.

Mangrum Ties For First Place In Mexico City

Mexico City (AP) — Veteran Lloyd Mangrum, former United States Open champion, shot an even par 36-36—72 yesterday to move into a tie with Tommy Bolt for the halfway lead in the Pan-American Open Golf Tournament. They had a 36-hole total of 140.

Bolt, Oklahoma-born professional playing out of Durham, N. C., went 12 strokes higher than his record-shattering 64 for the opening round. A lengthened course and a capricious wind forced him to fire a 37-39—76.

Too Easy

The tournament committee decided the course was too easy after Bolt's scorching 18-hole performance Thursday and proceeded to add 400 yards to the layout by placing markers on the back tees.

The course measured 7,347 yards. It plays a par 36-36—72.

Only two players were able to crack par under these revised conditions.

Jack Burke, of Houston, Tex., shot a 34-35—69 and Iverson Martin of Ft. Worth, Tex., fashioned a 35-36—71. They were tied for third place at 142.

Next came Al Besselink, the blonde blaster from Chicago, with 37-35—72 for 144. Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., had a 74 for 145.

Pocono Takes Measure Of Coolbaugh, 8-4

Tobyhanna — Pocono High outlasted Coolbaugh in a Monroe County League baseball game that produced 20 errors here yesterday, as the visiting nine finished on the long end of an 8-4 count.

Pocono broke a scoreless deadlock in the top of the third inning with a four-run outburst, while Harry Dailey blasted a grand-slam home run into center field in the bottom of the fourth to put Coolbaugh back into the game, after the charges of Coach Harry Werkheiser picked up a singleton in the top of the same inning.

Three More

The visiting Pocono contingent made certain of victory by pushing three more counters into paydirt in the top of the seventh and final stanza.

Pocono, although outhit nine to eight, took advantage of 12 errors on Coolbaugh's part to do the bulk of its damage.

The visiting Pocono defense was also guilty of eight boots in the field which also aided the Coolbaugh cause.

Cubs Sell Usher

Chicago, (AP)—The Chicago Cubs yesterday sold outfielder Bob Usher to the Los Angeles Angels, trimming their roster to 30 players.

Yanks Trip Red Sox To Snap Losing Streak

New York (AP)— It took two enemy errors plus hitting from an unexpected source to end the Yankees' three-game losing streak yesterday, as the slump-ridden New Yorkers defeated the Boston Red Sox, 7-4, in a battle of bobbles.

Johnny Sain, who pitched the first seven innings, was the big man in the Yanks' nine-hit attack. In winning his second game, the veteran righthander hit a two-run homer and a double while driving in three runs.

Fatal

But it was three unearned runs in the sixth inning which brought the fading World Champions their fifth victory in 13 games. Errors by third baseman Johnny Pesky and shortstop Jim Piersall helped create the Yanks' three-run inning.

Sain was struck on the right kneecap by a liner from the bat of Billy Goodman in the second inning. He remained in action until the knee stiffened from the exertion of running bases. Bob Hogue, also a former Braves' righthander, finished up. He was touched for two unearned runs in the eighth, due to errors by Gil McDougald, the Yankee second baseman, and himself.

Bill Wight, who hurled the first seven innings, was charged with his first loss. He has won once.

White Sox Score In Sixteenth To Nip Tigers

Detroit (AP) — "Minnie" Minoso's two-run triple in the 16th inning won the longest game of the 1952 major league season yesterday, the Chicago White Sox whipping the last-place Detroit Tigers 8-5 in a four hour and 27-minute duel that began in daylight and finished under the lights.

Relief pitcher Bill Kennedy snuffed out a Tiger bases-loaded rally in the last of the 16th by striking out George Lerchen and getting Johnny Groth to ground out.

In all, 34 players saw action.

An error by shortstop Johnny Lipon set up the winning tallies. With one out, Lipon fumbled winning pitcher Harry Dorish's grounder.

Rally

Nellie Fox singled and Minoso tripled. Eddie Robinson's single scored Minoso.

With two out in the 14th and the Tigers trailing 5-4, Steve Souchock drove the first pitch into the lower left field stands to keep the game going. The Sox had moved ahead in the top half of the 14th. Phil Masi walked, moved to second on Chico Carrasquel's sacrifice bunt and scored on Hecter Rodriquez' single to center.

Association Games Listed

Tobyhanna will be one of four teams taking part in their home openers of the 1952 campaign tomorrow, when the Pocono Mountain Association goes into action for the second time this season, with all eight clubs scheduled to swing into action at 2 p.m.

The newly formed Tobyhanna aggregation, loser at Daleville last Sunday, 10-7, will be out to even its record tomorrow when it tangles with Gouldsboro, on the Coolbaugh High field.

Tobyhanna, loaded with teenage talent, is slated to oppose a Gouldsboro club that has won three Pocono Mountain Association pennants.

Home Action

Newfoundland and Mt. Cobb, both triumphant in their opening games last week, will show their stuff before the home folks for the initial time and undoubtedly will receive a hero's welcome.

Newfoundland, with a nod over Gouldsboro to its credit, is at home with South Canaan, at the Wayne County Fair grounds.

Henry "Hank" Botjer, veteran Wayne County pilot, is the sole leader of the Newfoundland-South Sterling entry at the present time, following the resignation of co-manager Mike Stevens this week.

Mt. Cobb will go through its paces on the home field, with Maple Lake providing the opposition.

Daleville Boosters, 1951 playoff champion, and St. Catherine's of Moscow, will tangle on the Maple Lake field.

IN MEMORIAM 3

IN MEMORY of our beloved mother, Mrs. Sally Ann Hawk, who passed away October 23, 1951
Farewell, Dear Mother, life's cares are over.
Your willing hands will toil no more;
For us you always did your best.
God grant your soul eternal rest.

You had a cheery smile, a heart of gold.
The Dearest Mother this world could hold;
Kind and thoughtful ready to aid.
No better Mother God ever made.

Mother, you often said we would miss you,
Your words they did come true;
We lost our Best and Dearest Friend,
The day that we lost you.

In life we loved you dearly.
In death we do the same.
Oft times we think of you dear Mother
And our hearts are sad with pain.

Oh, this would be a heaven,
Could we hear your voice again.
You are gone but not forgotten.
Never shall your memory fade.

Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger
Around the grave where you were laid.
There is a token of affection
Mother
And a heartache still for you.

Though some have cursed, and mocked and mistreated you
Someday will have to answer, when it's too late.
God called you home to give you Rest and Peace,
Our hearts still long for you
Mother Dear on this "Mother's Day" and always.
Sadly missed by sons, daughters, son-in-laws, daughters-in-laws, and grandchildren.

Mixed Reaction Greets Easing Of Credit Rule

Suspension of controls over installment buying is greeted by Monroe County financing institutions, banks, appliance dealers and automotive sales heads in a divergent view. But the psychological effect on the customer is expected to stimulate an abbreviated period of prosperity.

In a general survey conducted yesterday, The Daily Record learned that for the consumer the lifting of restrictions is a welcome relief. For the dealer—one termed it "A terrific impetus to business," and another said "we need some stimulation, but I doubt that this is it."

The decontrol decision, announced at midweek, means no government requirements as to down payments or time to pay for automobiles, furniture, radio and television sets, and scores of other items.

Consensus of bankers in the Stroudsburgs is that time limits may be extended to 24 months on purchases of automobiles, but electrical appliances and other articles still will be held to an 18-month payment period. And it was generally determined that the one-third down payment for cars and 15 percent for most other articles still will be maintained.

Some concerns who operate their own financing programs already have started selling on low down payment, many accepting ten per cent and others even slightly lower. But the erasure of the initial payment entirely is almost out of the question, most businessmen feel.

One phase of business that is expected to receive an innoculation is the used electrical appliance field. One dealer was certain this line would "move" faster. In his opinion many small businessmen may assume the financing themselves to sell the articles which are overcrowding their showrooms.

A local banker saw the absence of regulations as a move coinciding with the forthcoming presidential election. He also pointed to that fact that many automotive and electrical manufacturers were forced to lay off workers lately and the movement toward heavier buying may see them reinstated in their jobs.

The industries expected to profit from the installment-buying ease already are showing a climb on the stock market.

Decision by the Federal Reserve Board to lift the regulations was based on their belief that supplies of the goods are plentiful and that credit curbs are no longer needed to restrain inflation.

Another banker said the regulation evaporation now paves the way for individuals to deposit securities when borrowing money to buy cars or appliances, a restriction under the government's program that was not allowable. This should open the field for many who want to buy new or used cars, he said.

An electrical appliance dealer noted that large stores with their own financing plan probably will fair better than the small businessman who depends on banks and other financing institutions for his grants. He said while the latter probably will still require a sizable down payment and maintain the payment level the same, the bigger business houses would eventually drop their initial payments to practically nothing and extend the payment period to a long time.

Most businessmen contacted agree that it is not a sound policy to sell without some form of downpayment. They feel, however, that by letting customers have more time to pay for their articles will be a great aid to their business.

Regulation "W", which is the control in question, required one-third down payment on purchase of automobiles and 15 per cent down on most other items, with 18 months to pay.

Control powers by the government end June 30 but the Federal Reserve Board is urging Congress to extend the period so the installment buying curbs can be imposed again if needed, should another inflationary surge appear.

Miss Grace Dreher Plans Retirement After Teaching Career Spanning 42 Years

Miss Grace Dreher, 515 Scott St., announced her resignation and retirement yesterday from the public schools of Stroudsburg after a period of 42 years.

During this entire period Miss Dreher served as third and fourth grade teacher in the Stroudsburg elementary schools.

Miss Dreher began teaching in 1910 in the first borough grade school. In 1926 when the borough school building burned, she taught temporary classes in the Stroudsburg Methodist Church. Other classes were held in the Reformed Church and the Morey school building.

When the Ramsey school opened in 1927, Miss Dreher was assigned to teach there. In 1939 she transferred to the Morey School building where she has been teaching ever since.

Miss Dreher, who is 62, was born in Stroudsburg, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dreher. She attended East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and has taken graduate work at that institution and at Penn State.

Following her retirement from teaching, she intends to go on "an extended vacation" and to devote most of her time to her many interests within the community.
